WOOD® Magazine

A few notes on using this disc:

Navigating

There are several ways to navigate the articles on this disk:

1. Click on a selection on the following page to browse to issues of the magazine.
2. Click on the Project Index link on the following page to browse for a specific article.
3. Click on a bookmark in the panel, left, to jump directly to that article.

Searching

To search for a topic, click the Search bookmark in the panel, left, or click on the Search link on the following page. Enter a phrase in the search window's field to display all occurrences of that phrase.

To search for a phrase in the currently open issue, enter a search phrase into Reader's Find field in the toolbar.

Printing

To print an article from this disc, locate the article and click on  Print this article on the first page of the article. Your print dialog box should appear with the proper page-range fields prepopulated.

Note: Choosing the Print command from the File menu without entering a page range will print all of the pages in the issue.

Also, due to variances in printers, full-size patterns may not print at exactly 100 percent. Double-check pattern dimensions against the project article, and rescale drawings if necessary to match those dimensions.

About sources, offers, and corrections

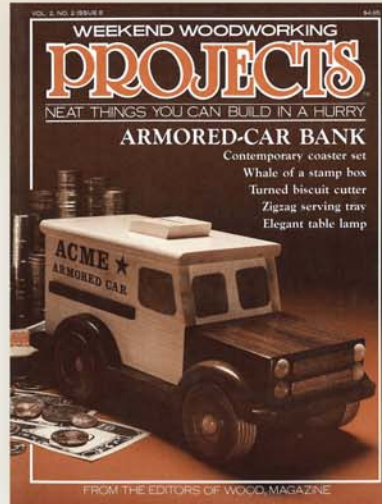

These magazines are presented as they were published in the past. As such, any information from advertisements, offers, sources, and buying guides may be out-of-date and/or invalid. WOOD does not keep updated sourcing information. Offers to provide full-size patterns by mail are no longer honored. Corrected dimensions are noted by a . Roll over or click the yellow arrow to reveal the text of the correction.
