Illinois Central: Past & Present

Take a trip back to the 1960s for a look at Illinois Central freight and high speed passenger operations throughout its domain. Highlights include passenger trains such as The Creole and The Panama Limited along with a 110 mph cab ride aboard an E-unit leading the City of New Orleans. Then it's on to the late 1980s, where you'll see "the new Illinois Central" work freight between Matteson and Tolono, Illinois. 1 hour. #RV6781

The California Zephyr

Travel back to the 1960s to see the California Zephyr! You'll follow the streamliner across its entire Chicago to San Francisco journey, seeing each of the three railroads that pulled the train: the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; the Denver & Rio Grande Western; and the Western Pacific. Vivid in-cab and track-side action makes this a great trip! 1 hour. #RV6652

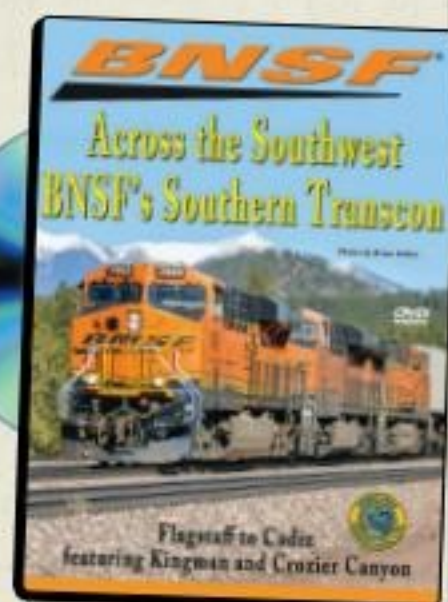

Canadian National on the Former Illinois Central

Stretching from Chicago to New Orleans, the former Illinois Central mainline is now owned and operated by Canadian National. This jam-packed program travels along its rails and visits exciting locations in Gilman, Champaign, Tuscola, Carbondale, and more while seeing action from not only CN but also Norfolk Southern, Union Pacific, CSX, BNSF, Union Pacific, and Amtrak! Optional narration. 1 hr. 54 min. #403465

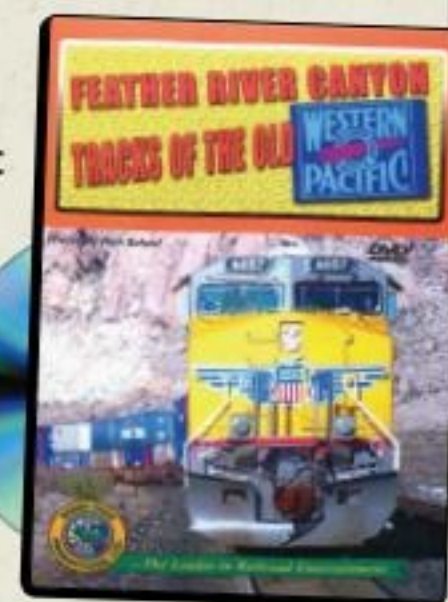

Across the Southwest BNSF's Southern Transcon

The scenic Southwest and its beautifully quiet landscape is the star of this captivating program which follows along on BNSF's Western region tracks, primarily in Arizona and California. Visit the Grand Canyon Railway in Williams, enjoy extended stops in both Crozier and Kingman Canyons, and see the California Railroad interchanging with BNSF in Cadiz. Optional narration. 1 hr. 26 min. #401843

Feather River: Tracks of the Old Western Pacific

This trackside tour of the Feather River Route – between Portola and Oroville in northern California – presents thrilling runs and incredible scenery. You'll visit the Portola Railroad Museum, view trains from multiple angles at William Loop and the famous Keddie Wye trestle, and then travel through the canyon to the west end, where you'll see Union Pacific and BNSF trains. 1 hr. 25 min. #RV6926

Florida East Coast

This video takes you on a mainline trip from Jacksonville to Miami, with visits to Bowden Yard, Beaver Street Tower, the Jacksonville Container Yard, NASA's connection with the FEC, Miami's Hialeah Yard, NSB Yard and its various shops, and many other locations for an incredible inside look at operations on one of today's premier U.S. railroads. 1 hr. 14 min. #RV7309

This Was the Rock Island

This program explores Rock Island's Illinois Division during the Rock's final six years of operation, from late 1974 until shortly before the railroad shut down on March 31, 1980. You'll view commuter trains, FPs, the Peorian passenger train, the famous Rockets, E- and F-units, Alcos, GE U-Boats, GP7s and GP38-2s, and much more. 1 hr. 12 mins. #RV7360

Southern Pacific 4449

The 4449 was built by the Lima Locomotive Works in 1941 to pull the Southern Pacific's "Daylight" trains between Los Angeles and San Francisco. Enjoy this action packed video featuring on and off train shots in 2009, with lots of bonus footage also included! 1 hr. 20 mins. #407587

Paradise Express

In this 1937 thriller, a shortline railroad struggles for survival when a corrupt trucking firm comes to town determined to derail the railroad's business. Faced with bankruptcy, the owner of the railroad challenges the truckers to race for a prestigious hauling contract, with leading man Grant Withers taking the controls of the Paradise Express – winner takes all! 1 hour. #RV8234 $9.95

Two Weeks to Live

Comedy duo Lum and Abner inherit a worthless railroad in this 1943 film and sell $10,000 worth of shares to the local townsfolk to raise money to run a spur into their town. They soon discover – due to a doctor's error! – that Abner has only two weeks to live. Lum is convinced that they can earn a fortune and pay back the investors by volunteering the condemned Abner for all sorts of dangerous stunts! B&W, 1 hr. 14 min. #RV2041 $9.95

The Silent Passenger

This clever murder mystery from 1935 follows the high tension following the murder of a blackmailer aboard an English passenger train. With the body dumped in the trunk of John Ryder (John Loder), the crew and travelers turn against him – except for amateur detective Lord Peter Wimsey (Peter Haddon), who sets out to prove Ryder's innocence. A brilliant scheme to lure out the real killer unfolds, but will it work? B&W, 1 hr. 3 min. #RV9729 $9.95

The Gang's All Here

This 1941 adventure caper follows Frankie O'Malley and Jefferson Smith, two out-of-work friends who answer a local newspaper ad looking for trucks. After being hired, however, they quickly discover the dire straits of the company as drivers are being killed by local rivals. Follow their adventures as the duo attempts to save themselves and, as they learn, their blackmailed new boss! B&W. 1 hr. 2 min. #400964 $9.95

Last Train from Gun Hill

This film tells the story of two old friends that find themselves eventually competing against one another on opposite sides of the law. Timber Industry Ghosts

Moore. Timber has always been one of the principle industries in the United States. Logging trees, transporting them to sawmills, processing for products, have left their mark on history and what the country looks like. But changes in the industry and economy have forced many plants to close and values to shift. This snapshot examines the remnants and history of the world of timber in the Pacific Coast states. 160 pages,
