Dear Fellow Railfan,

ElectroMotive Inc., an established company known for its high-quality production of diesel-electric locomotives for the rail industry, is applauded for its creation of the GP30 and the GP9. The GP30, which was among the first of the second-generation diesel locomotive designs, was introduced in 1961 to compete against General Electric's "U-Boat" locomotives. The GP9, a classic road-switcher, first saw service in the mid-1950s, and it became the most-produced EMD model in history.

In honor of these highly celebrated locomotives, featured below you'll find an assortment of fun collectibles. Browse through the rest of the catalog to find stylish railroad shirts on page 27, classic die cast cars on pages 40-41, and genuine stock certificates on pages 25 and 52.

IMAGES OF RAIL Terminal Stations

$21⁹⁵ Each

Examine passenger train stations from across America in our diverse collection of titles – such as the awe-inspiring Beaux-Arts style of Union Station or the famous St. Louis Station, once among the most opulent in the world! Filled with 180+ rare, black and white imagery, each book covers the history, development, and important highlights of both active and landmark terminals. 128 pages, 6½"x 9¼", softcover.

Union Station in Washington, D.C.

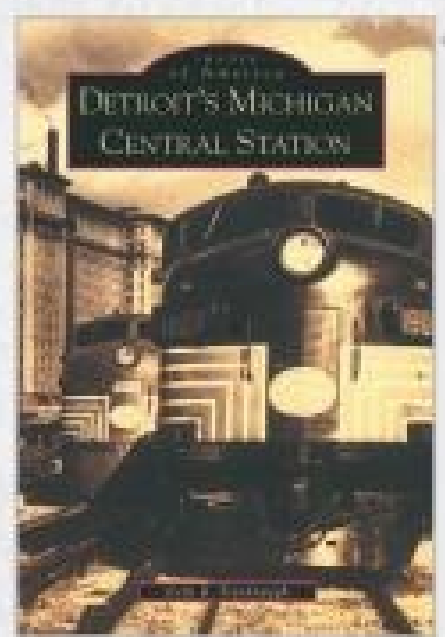

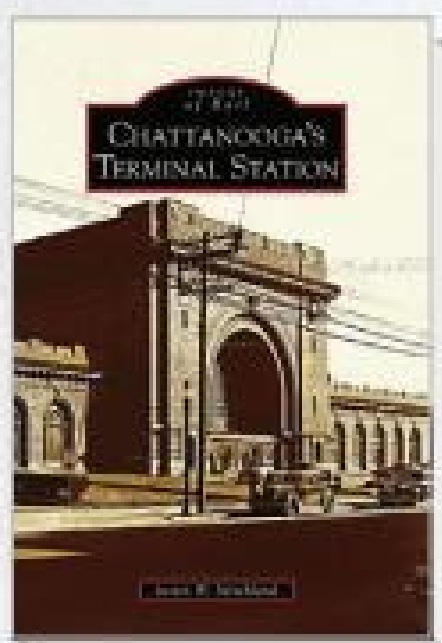

Cooper. Initially designed in 1907 to be a monumental gateway to the nation's capital, you'll view the evolution of the station over the past century, the trains and operations of the railroads that used it, and more. #R37105

Jamaica Station – Morrison. The major hub station of the Long Island Rail Road in Jamaica, Queens, and New York City, Jamaica Station has operated for a century as the largest transit hub on Long Island and one of the busiest railroad stations in the country. #R37109

St. Louis Union Station – Montesi & Deposki. When opened in 1894, St. Louis Union Station was among the most opulent stations in the world. Here, you'll follow the development of this complex, seeing it at its zenith in the 1920s-1940s – including a look at the 11-shed passenger operations and famous "Harvey Girls" – then witness its sad demise by the 1960s and amazing rebirth decades later. #R01334

Chattanooga's Terminal Station Strickland. From its 1909 opening through the decline of railroad passenger travel in the 1950s and '60s, the closure of the station in 1970, and its rebirth a few years later as a hotel and entertainment complex. #R03757

Detroit's Michigan Central Station

Kavanaugh. In 1913, the Michigan Central Station opened its majestic entrances to the people of Detroit. Designed by the same architectural firms that designed Grand Central Station in New York City, the Michigan station was a marvel of grandeur and comfort. #R01319

Building Grand Central Terminal Bilotto & DiLorenzo. Examine one of New York City's most iconic facilities and its Beaux Arts-style structure, which revolutionized travel, beginning with its lineage dating back to the Grand Central Depot (1871) and Station (1900). #403430

America's Covered Bridges

Miller. At their peak, as many as 15,000 covered bridges were scattered throughout North America. Now, less than a 1,000 remain. The Train Robbers

This 1973 western stars John Wayne, Rod Taylor and Ben Johnson as gunmen hired by a young widow (Ann-Margaret) to recover hidden gold from her husband's final train robbery and return it to the railroad to clear his name. The "explosive" train scenes, action-packed shootouts and surprise ending are sure to delight! Co-stars Ricardo Montalban as a Pinkerton detective. Extras include the featurette, The Wayne Train. Widescreen. 1 hr. 32 min. #RV3238 $19.95

Once Upon a Texas Train

This 1988 western adventure stars Willie Nelson as a notorious outlaw who, released from prison after serving 20 years for a train holdup, robs a bank to bring his old nemesis, a Texas Ranger (Richard Widmark), out of retirement. When the outlaw reunites his aging gang to repeat the train robbery, the Texas Ranger reassembles his old posse. Co-stars Angie Dickinson, Chuck Connors, and Ken Curtis. 1 hr. 36 min. #RV3282 $9.95

The California Kid

This 1974 TV film stars a young Martin Sheen as Michael McCord, a man hell-bent on avenging the death of his brother at the hands of the crooked local sheriff (Vic Morrow). Nick Nolte rounds out an impressive cast, though the classic American cars – including recognizable Fords, Plymouths, and Mercuries – might be the real star of this action-packed thriller featuring some of the most gripping car-chase scenes ever filmed! 1 hr. 14 min. #KV00124 $9.95

The Driver

A career criminal, the "Driver" (Ryan O'Neal) boosts cars to use as getaway vehicles in big-time robberies all over the Los Angeles area. Closing in on capturing the driver, a conceited and nameless detective (Bruce Dern) sets up a bank job – at the risk of his own career – in order to bait and trap the lead-footed wheelman. 1 hr. 31 min. #KV00075 $12.95

The Cannonball Run

With the likes of Burt Reynolds, Roger Moore, Dom DeLuise, and Farrah Fawcett, this star-studded, 1981 fast-action comedy won't disappoint! Gathering in Connecticut, teams sign up to race cross country to the west coast for the ultimate prize – fame, glory, and riches. Anything goes in this all-out, madcap dash as racers play dirty and use their modified autos to do whatever it takes to cross the finish line first. 1 hr. 35 min. #KV00073 $9.95

Special Agent

In this 1949 film starring George Reeves, a mail-train heist leaves an innocent man dead and nets the criminal brothers a small fortune in payroll, launching the greatest manhunt in California railroading history. When a new railroad detective heads the investigation, the steely partnership between the brothers slowly unravels as the dragnet tightens and their differences come into violent conflict. B&W, 1 hr. 9 min. #RV2010 $9.95

Night Passage

Filmed on the Durango & Silverton Narrow Gauge Railroad using K-28 2-8-2 Mikado #476, this 1957 western stars James Stewart as Grant McLaine, a soft-spoken but life-hardened guard assigned to protect a local railroad from a band of desperadoes that includes his kid brother, the Utica Kid (Audie Murphy). With the train coming under attack, McLaine must choose sides: honor his allegiance to the railroad, or allow his brother to break the law. 1 hr. 31 min. #RV3311 $14.95

Joe Kidd

In this 1972 western starring Clint Eastwood, Joe Kidd is an ex-bounty hunter hired to track down a Mexican bandito, who is organizing revolts against local landowners. Kidd prefers to remain neutral, but joins after discovering his own ranch was raided, even going so far as to plow the #11 Reno, a V&T Baldwin 4-4-0, through the town saloon in his attempt to bring justice. 1 hr. 28 min. #RV3328 $12.95

Without Reservations

In this 1946 comedy, which stars John Wayne and Claudette Colbert, a famous novelist – who is bumped from her first-class accommodations – meets two U.S. Marines during a train trip from New York to Hollywood, where her latest bestseller is to be filmed. But when the novelist decides that one of them would be perfect for the lead in her film, there's no telling what she may do! Look for Jack Benny and Cary Grant in uncredited cameo appearances. B&W, 1 hr. 41 min. #RV5411 $16.95

Super 8

Produced by Steven Spielberg, this 2011 science-fiction thriller follows the strange series of events that occur after a military train derailed in 1979 rural Ohio. Present at the scene, a group of teenagers who captured the catastrophe on Super 8mm film, suspect that a dangerous presence was released after the crash and is the cause behind unexplainable phenomena and disappearances happening around town. 1 hr. 52 min. #RV3366 $14.95
