On the Cover:
"Texarkana Bound"

Robert Hunt. A staple of the railroad industry since 1887, the Kansas City Southern inaugurated the "Southern Belle" in 1940 – a passenger train that provided service from the Midwest to the Bayou through the late 1960s. This limited edition print captures a colorful E8 diesel engine in 1968 as it makes a crew change in De Queen, Arkansas, on its way to Texarkana. 24"x 18".

ARCADIA PUBLISHING AND The History Press

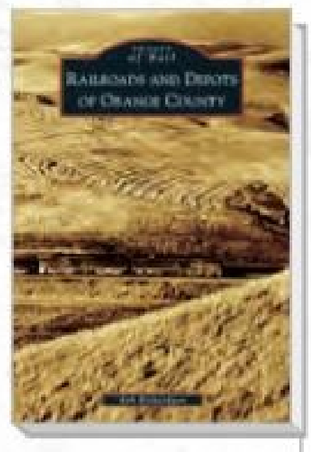

Heavily illustrated, these fascinating books offer historical accounts of notable railroads and their journeys. Follow along to discover the evolution and impact of these railways. 128 pages, approximately 200 images, 6½"x 9¼", softcover.

$21.95 Each

Sacramento's Southern Pacific Shops – Hecteman. This book examines the massive Southern Pacific shops in Sacramento, California, from their construction in 1867 - when they were built to keep the Central Pacific's equipment in running order - through the complex's closure in 1999. #R02579

Railroads and Depots of Orange County – Richardson. This book examines more than 130 years of railroading and depots in Orange County, California. You'll view historic depots; interurban operations; WWII troops moving through the region and Amtrak and Metrolink stations. #R03809

Caltrain and the Peninsula Commute Service – McGovern. The Caltrain, created in the 1860s, is the oldest continuously operating passenger railroad in the West. Explore behind-the-scenes operations of the Southern Pacific, which ran the line for most of its life. #R37124

Pennsylvania Main Line Railroad Stations – Sundman. The PRR took the Pennsylvania Main Line into its network and made it successful. This volume examines the line's eastern area from Philadelphia to Harrisburg with particular attention paid to the stations. #402065

Railroads of Death Valley Palazzo. You'll view the trains and operations of the Death Valley Railroad, Carson & Colorado Railroad and Tonopah & Tidewater Railroad; read about "Death Valley Scotty's" leap to fame when he chartered a private train to break the Los Angeles to Chicago speed record. #R37090

Yakima Valley Transportation Company – Johnsen. Follow the history of Washington's Yakima Valley Transportation Company, which began operations in 1907 as a streetcar line, served as a freight-only Union Pacific subsidiary for 38 years, and runs again today as a tourist streetcar operation. #R37003

Summit County's Narrow-Gauge Railroads Mather and Schoppe. During the 19th and 20th century, two railroads fought for dominance in Summit Country, Colorado: the Denver, South Park & Pacific and Denver & Rio Grande. The mining industry battled snow and mountainous terrain to build these railroads. #402181

Kenosha on the Go – Doyle. This illustrated book chronicles 110 years of transportation in Kenosha, Wisconsin, from the first interurban streetcar that reached Kenosha's northern city limits in 1897 to the existing transit system of 2007. #R02479

St. Louis Gateway Rail: The 1970s – Barker. This pictorial history shows you how the dedication of the Gateway Arch in 1968 and the closing to rail service of St. Louis Union Station redefined the St. Louis riverfront. #R01436

Southern Pacific in California Sullivan. This book examines Southern Pacific Railroad operations in California, from its 1865 founding onward. You'll see motive power and trains, stations and infrastructure, as you watch the road grow into a major system with lines along the coast. #R37025

Boston's Blue Line – Cheney. Boston's rapid transit Blue Line is a 5.94-mile route that begins in Bowdoin Station and ends at Wonderland. You'll see the line's early operations with trolley cars and narrow gauge steam powered trains, and see changes necessitated by increased ridership. #R01376

NEW! Plymouth Railroads Kerstens & Elliott. The two railroads that came to Plymouth in the early 1870s were needed to transport repeat orders for the air rifle industry to all corners of the United States. Passenger transportation needs were also met between 1899 and 1928 by the Detroit, Plymouth & Northville Railroad. #408662

Lake Tahoe's Railroads Drew. With a lineage dating back to the 1870s, the railroad industry around Lake Tahoe in California and Nevada sprang out of the need to transport pine trees for the booming local lumber industry. This guide travels to the early days of lakeside logs through the late 19th century. #402068

Boston's Red Line Cheney. Ground was broken for Boston's Cambridge Subway in 1909 and once completed, it became known as the Red Line. This book documents the line's construction and spotlights the engineers and political leaders involved in its development. #R01325

Horseshoe Curve Seidel. Built by Pennsylvania Railroad in the 1850s – located just west of Altoona – Horseshoe Curve is known worldwide as one of railroading's greatest engineering achievements. #R02495

The Railroad at Pocatello Waite. This book explores the railroad's importance to Pocatello, Idaho, which was founded in 1878. The Union Pacific built shops here, where railroad equipment was serviced, maintained, and repaired. #R37128

Trolleys Under the Hub Cheney & Sammarco. In 1897, Boston's first trolley emerged from beneath Park Street, and before long, the city's Green Line transportation system – America's first subway – began linking the suburbs to Boston. #R01367

Middletown and Unionville Railroad – Barberio. This book examines the Middletown and Unionville Railroad, showing you its history from its 1913 founding through its reorganization as the Middletown & New Jersey Railway in 1946. You'll view motive power, passenger and freight operations, connecting roads, and stations and structures. #R03634

Just 4 Fun Hollywood Movies

The Wild Angels

The Hells Angels ride in this thrilling biker film. Featuring Heavenly Blues, the Angels' black-leather-clad leader, this film portrays the lifestyle of these modern outlaws. Follow their incredible and shocking journey.
1hr. 33min. #408689 $29.95

The Mystery Train

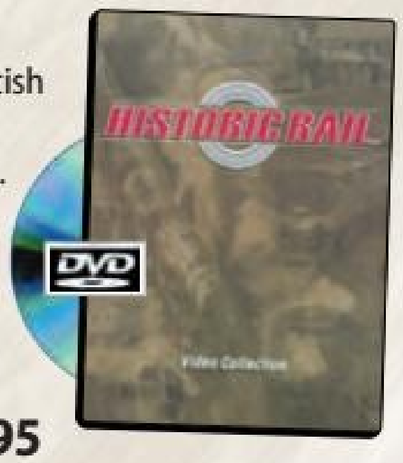

In this 1931 thriller starring Hedda Hopper and Marceline Day, a jewel heist on the Transcontinental Limited turns deadly when a group of passengers is trapped in a runaway Pullman car hurtling down a steep Rocky Mountain grade. Thrills and chills abound as a heroic figure faces off against an evil foe during a climactic fight on the car's end platform!
B&W, 1 hr. 3 min. #RV2032 $9.95

Dynamite Ranch

In this 1932 cowboy classic, Ken Maynard thinks he's stopping a train robbery in progress, but it turns out that the holdup is a gag concocted by a passenger. However, when it's discovered that the train has actually been robbed and the train's messenger is dead, Maynard is accused of the robbery and must catch the real perpetrators – and stay one step ahead of the posse – to prove his innocence.
B&W, 57 min. #RV2017 $9.95

The Ghost Train

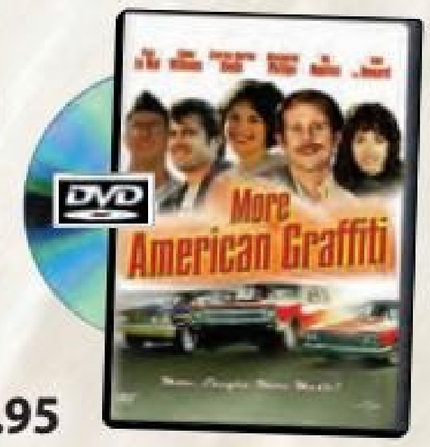

Comedian Arthur Askey stars in this suspenseful, 1941 British film about a group of mismatched rail travelers stranded overnight in a lonely country station during a fierce storm. When a signalman tells the group the local legend of a phantom train carrying ghosts from a long-ago train wreck (and whose late-night appearance brings death to anyone foolish enough to look at it), the tension builds until the train becomes a real and frightening proposition B&W, 1 hr. 22 min. #RV2061 $12.95

American Graffiti

Directed by George Lucas, this 1973 coming-of-age film set in 1962 Modesto, California, is the quintessential Hollywood study of the car-crazy, rock and roll loving, post-World War II baby boom generation. Meeting at teen hotspot Mel's Drive-In, high school graduates decide their next steps as they weigh the pros and cons of entering the workforce, going to college, or signing up for the military. Features plenty of vintage American cars, including a '58 Chevy Impala, a '56 Thunderbird, and other hotrods. Widescreen. 1 hr. 52 min. #KV00035 $16.95

More American Graffiti

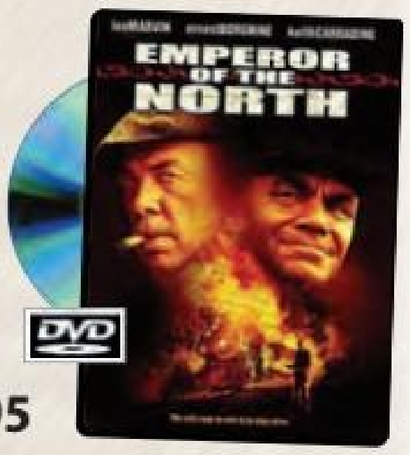

A much-anticipated follow-up to the 1973 street-racing classic American Graffiti, the sequel picks up where its predecessor left off and follows the gang during four consecutive New Year's Eves from 1964-1967. Candy Clark, Ron Howard, and Paul Le Mat all reprise their memorable roles and begin navigating real life careers, relationships, and problems during the tumultuous 1960s. 1 hr. 51 min. #KV00057 $19.95

The Last Days of Billy the Kid

Chronicling the last days of the most iconic outlaw from the Old West, this film tells the unknown stories of Billy the Kid's attempt to escape grueling bounty hunters with a high price on his head. Unlike any other big-screen account, it truly captures the paranoia and heart-break felt by the gunslinger during his final moments. 1 hr. 20 min. #105104 $16.95

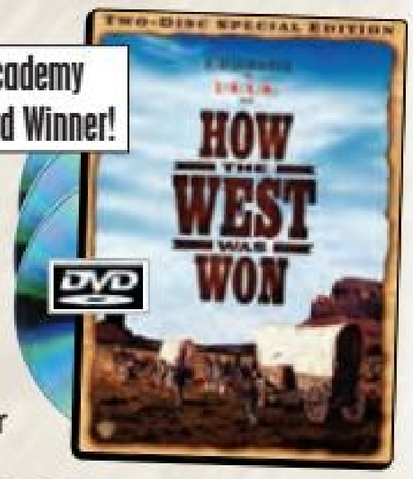

Emperor of the North

With an all-star cast that includes Lee Marvin, Ernest Borgnine and Keith Carradine, this Depression-era tale of a brutal conductor and the hobo who will risk his very life to ride the conductor's freight train is one of the greatest railroad films ever made. Includes the theatrical trailer. Widescreen.
2 hours. #RV6996 $14.95

How the West Was Won

Special Edition

Boasting an all-star cast with John Wayne, James Stewart, Henry Fonda, Carroll Baker, and Gregory Peck, this 1962 epic follows four generations of a family as they move from New York to the Pacific coast and witness events that shaped the nation, from the migration west to the Civil War and the rise of the railroads. Winner of three Academy Awards! 2 hrs. 46 min. on 3 DVDs. #RV3327 $21.95

Tombstone

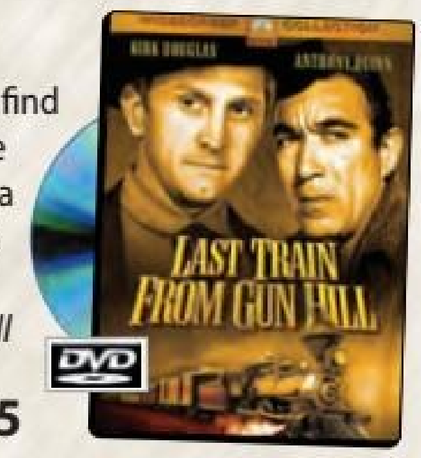

A sparkling cast of Hollywood stars highlights Tombstone, a nostalgic look back at the notorious gunfights of the OK Corral! Kurt Russell delivers an unforgettable performance as Marshal Wyatt Earp, who teams up with Doc Holliday (Val Kilmer) to try and bring order to the local outlaws played by Sam Elliot, Bill Paxton, Charlton Heston, and others!
2 hrs. 10 min. #105850 $14.95

Rush

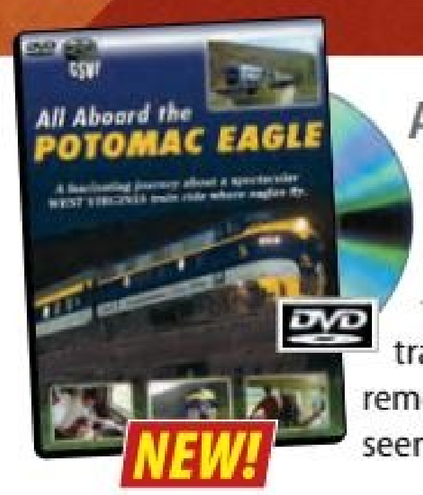

Follow the story of two legendary Formula One drivers – James Hunt and Niki Lauda – at the peak of their heated rivalry in the 1970s. When a crash during the 1976 Grand Prix at the Nürburgring nearly takes Lauda's life, a growing respect begins to form between the two racers. 2 hrs. #408692 $12.95

Last Train from Gun Hill

This film tells the story of two old friends that find themselves eventually competing against one another on opposite sides of the law. Belden, a rich cattle baron, is the unspoken ruler of Gun Hill, while Morgan is a U.S. Marshall living in another adjacent town. Last Train from Gun Hill stars Kirk Douglas and Anthony Quinn.
