Kverneland has been responsible for the sale and support of Siloking diet feeders since 2006, the company having seen its share of the market grow to the point where finding a pre-owned machine in the popular 10 to 20 'cube' capacity should not be difficult. Having garnered a reputation for being mechanically straightforward and robust, a pre-owned buy can make a sound investment if chosen with care.

In broad outline, the Siloking range can be divided into Classic, Duo and Premium models with capacities from 8m³ to 45m³. Kverneland suggest there is no such thing as a standard build Siloking mixer, with even its simplest of 'entry level' models coming with a host of spec choices. With this in mind, used buyers are advised to draw up a pre-buy specification 'wish list' and stick to this. No point wasting time looking at mixers that do not have certain must have features.

Among the most common options is a Twin Lift conveyor. First launched back in 2009, this versatile feed-out choice is now fitted to around 80% of Siloking models sold in the UK. In outline, Twin Lift allows mixed feed to be discharged at different heights to either side of the feeder. Twin Lift may be specified in addition to a side or rear door outlet.

Next is the main gearbox, this coming with a choice of single or two-speeds on mixers of up to 10m³, from where on it is as standard. In brief, a single speed gearbox will be geared to allow slicing up a bale at an auger speed of around 15rpm to 18rpm for a gentle mix by a more typical yard tractor.

A two-speed box allows more choice when switching between 540, 750 or 1,000 pto speeds whilst retaining the ability for a lower powered tractor to do the mixing and then switch to the higher speed for feeding out. Similarly, a dual speed may allow a more powerful tractor to mix at a lower engine speed in the higher ratio to save fuel. From new, there would have been a choice of manual or from-the-controller speed switchover for the two-speed box.

In 2012, Kverneland introduced the 'New Generation' models. Easy to spot as they have a 'Flow Plus' steel ring running around the top of the hopper as standard. The ring helps retain bales and material at the start of the mix process. Other developments included the option of Siloking Wireless Transfer, SWT. In broad outline, SWT includes a handheld combined control and display terminal that will relay and store information from the feeder's main electronic control box. This wireless system operates using Siloking Data radio-controlled weighing, control and documentation and can also patch into the company's Feeding Management Software.

This software was first introduced in 2016 as a free service. It allows the wireless transfer of recipes to be sent to the SWT terminal in the loading vehicle. This is an advance over the hard drive based mixing software package that has also been offered as an option prior to SWT, but the former cannot be upgraded plus the original software license is not transferable. For more detail, see separate box.

Other changes made to the updated models are new gearboxes that offer enhanced durability and higher load capability. The gearbox oil reservoirs were also relocated to help keep them out of harms way.

These are just the basics, the near 'bespoke' build of most mixers sold making it important to establish specific details about a potential used buy rather than knowing what was available from new. If buying from a dealer, ensure you make them fully aware of your specific requirements. In some instances, a machine you enquire about may not suit your needs but a model coming in as a part exchange may. >>

<< If buying from an auction or privately, really do your homework first. Do not be afraid to ring up the supplying dealer either as they may know the machine and possibly have an insight into why it is being sold.

BASIC CHECKS

Once your 'must have' specification is established, it pays to inspect a used buy following a set sequence. You can save a lot of time this way. Although you can alter how you prioritise certain points, we suggest you start from the auger gearbox, then look at the augers for wear, then the discharge system, chassis and finally the load cells and related controller.

GEARBOXES

Job one when looking over any used buy is to look at the oil in the auger gearbox reservoir. If the oil looks dirty or the level is low, this is a clear early warning. Renewing the gearbox oil at least once a year is a must, heavily worked machines needing fresh gearbox oil more frequently. A gearbox running dirty or high temperature damaged oil will be likely to be worn and this is costly to remedy.

Also take a look for oil leaks around the gearbox from the underside of the mixer. If dirty oil has not turned you away, this plus a gearbox leak should. Do not waste your time looking over the rest of the machine. Find another one.

IMPORTANT: The gearbox driveshafts have grease points. These are often overlooked.

IMPACT OF AUGER WEAR ON MIX QUALITY

(Source Kverneland)

Ideal mix – unworn

Reducing mix quality as wear progresses

By red line three, the mix will be compromised

As the auger edge wears it will have an increasing impact upon the machine's mixing ability. It is difficult to give an accurate guide to how to gauge when the auger's wear needs attention but if you can really 'see it' then it suggests attention is needed. The diagrams above show the key stages of wear, a gradual increase having a growing impact on performance. If in doubt, seek advice.

The simplest way to establish auger wear is to run a straight edge from the centre core to the outer edge on the lowest part of the flight you can get to. You will spot the top surface edge of the auger will have a wear clearance between the straight edge and the outer lip of the auger. The bigger the gap the greater the wear. With augers, there is a fine line between worn but repairable and worn but beyond the point of no return (see box).

A dealer prepared buy may be nearing the point at which the augers are on the cusp of needing work. Here it pays to establish how much work the mixer will do. A mixer previously operated intensively on a large dairy unit may have seen more work in a month than a second buyer will put through it in a year or more. An auger seen as too worn for hard use may be just fine for more limited work.

With reference to tub wear, these can re-lined with a kit available through Kverneland. There are no hard and fast tub to auger wear ratios, but it is fair to suggest the auger will need attention before the tub. If a used buy has worn auger repair strips already fitted this may suggest the original tub will need relining if the latter are also in need of renewal (also see picture captions).

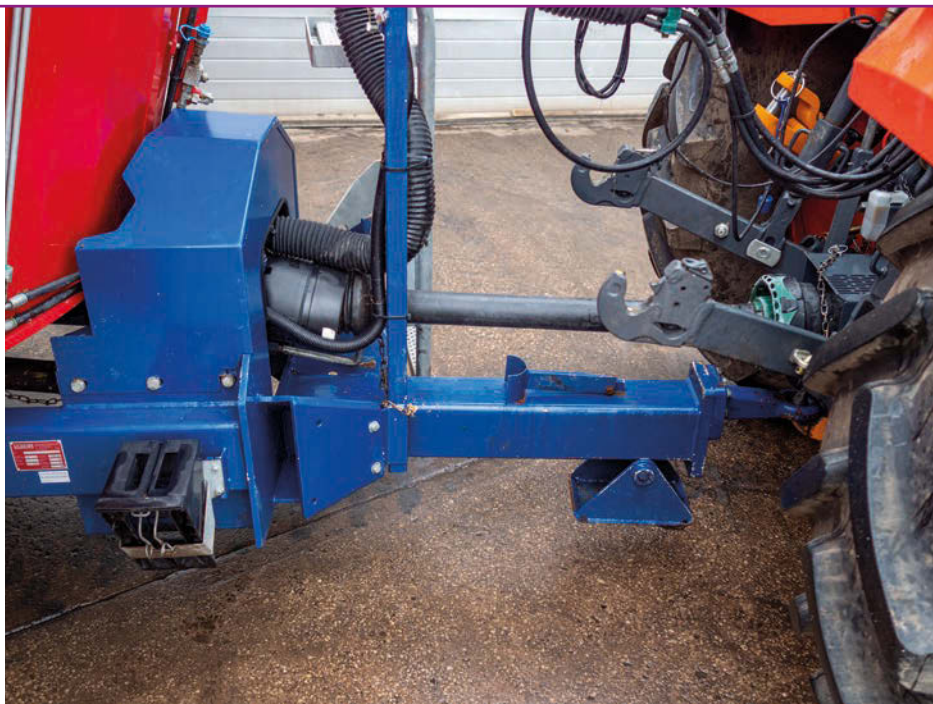

NOTE: Although auger repair strips are readily available, they are not widely fitted in the UK.

DISCHARGE

The simplest discharge system is a rear door. When the door is lowered, ensure it seals. If you can see a gap, caused by discharged material wearing the tub floor at the outlet, it can be repaired. Play between the door and the channels in which it slides can also be fixed. The same wear checks can be applied to side doors, the curtain that directs discharged material to the ground often seeing damage that again is relatively inexpensive to put right.

At the front of the wagon, a hydraulic ram linked to the discharge doors will indicate how wide the doors are opened. It is not unusual for an air lock to cause this ram not to work correctly, possibly suggesting the door is fully closed when it could still be partially open. There is a hydraulic coupler incorporated into the indicator ram's piping that allows this problem to be easily remedied, with instructions on how to achieve this in the operator's manual.

Twin Lift conveyors have changed in detail, but the checks to make are pretty much the same for the early black and current red belt material types. Apart from obvious damage to

A two-speed gearbox is a real plus on even smaller models as it can be set at the low speed for mixing with enough torque transfer to the auger to allow a lower powered tractor to deal with incorporating a bale. The higher speed allows a faster feed out speed. Selection can be on the gearbox or from the cab. Pull the pto shaft apart to ensure the halves slide freely. The pto length may need altering to suit your tractor, another cost to consider when buying used.

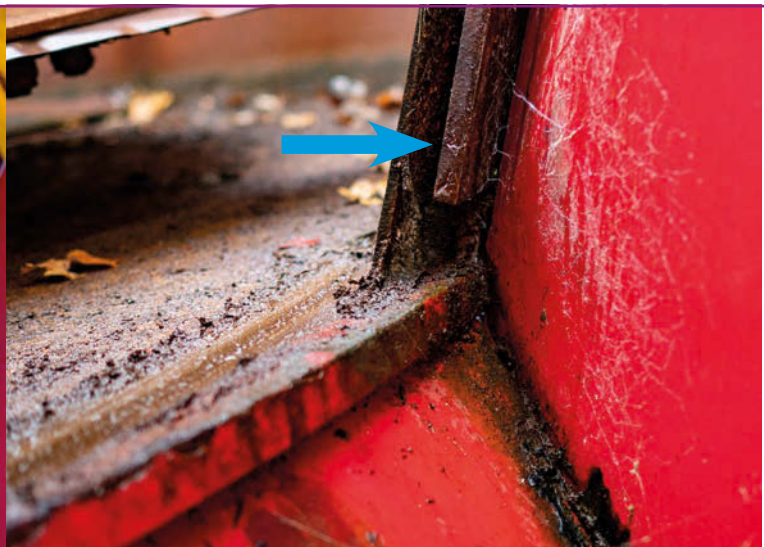

The gearbox oil reservoir should be among your first check areas. Look for oil showing in the transparent pipe and also that the oil is nice and clean. Black, overheated oil is a poor sign, as are any signs of leaks from the auger gearbox itself. If in doubt, walk away and find another used buy.

the conveyor material itself and worn side strip brushes, you need to ensure the bearings on the conveyor idler rollers are sound. These can only be properly inspected with the conveyor belt removed. The bearings of the stubby belt tensioners on 'red belt' designs are wear items. Give them a few turns to see how they 'feel'. If stiff or notchy new bearings will be needed.

A dealer should ensure the conveyor is checked and fully serviced prior to a sale. If buying privately or at auction just assume work on the conveyor will be needed. Allow £1,000 for this, even if you are doing the fettling work in-house. A growing number of mixers have autolube systems installed for the key bearings. Check the grease feed lines are all in-situ as they can get damaged.

The conveyor drive motors were originally liable to leaking. This was solved by fitting a pressure release valve into the end cap. This is an easy spot and will be standard on all models made from 2012. New drive motors are relatively inexpensive but should rarely be needed (also see picture captions). >>

A gap will open up between the mixer floor and the door where the latter is routinely used for discharge. A lip weld repair is fine. Also look at the vertical slide seal as this too is a wear item (both arrowed).

<< CHASSIS AND RUNNING GEAR

On a mixer destined for work around a yard it may be tempting to just assume decent tyres are the primary check. If the mixer has tandem axles, however, it pays to ensure the steered rear wheels are set up and working correctly as the rear wheel steering links do wear and few get much attention. The rear wheels should lock hydraulically straight when reversing.

Where fitted, look for broken leaf springs as this is a relatively common find on hard worked wagons. Both hydraulic and air brakes are available, but it is not really possible to inspect them when looking a machine over. Budget for a professional inspection if buying privately (see picture captions).

WEIGHING SYSTEM

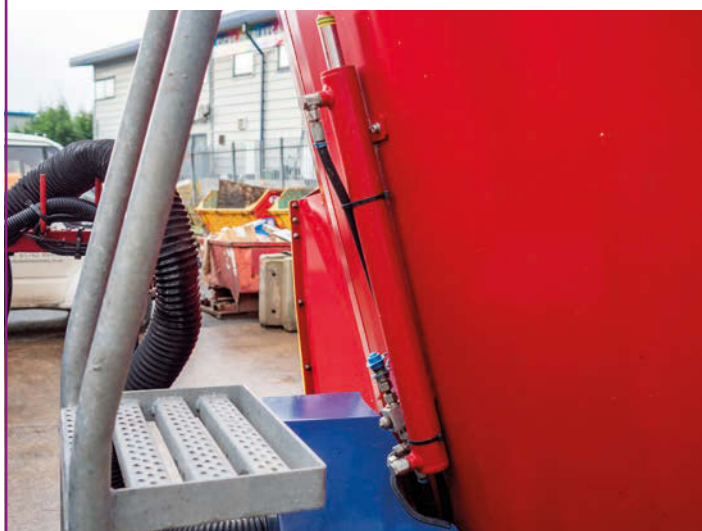

On the mixer, the load cells will either work or not. The load cells themselves are robust and typically will only be a problem if a connecting wire is damaged. If this is the case, the entire unit has to be replaced so make a wire check a priority when looking over the machine – an error will come up on the electronic controller if there is a problem but still do a physical check.

More generally, inspect the inside of the tub. The adjustable knives are wear items that really do need to be in good order if you want to save fuel and deliver a good mix. Kverneland recommend users check the blades at regular intervals and make a note of how the blades are wearing at fixed dates. Order a set of new knives with a pre-owned buy and use these as a reference to gauge wear. Running a mixer with worn and blunt knives is a false economy.

There are various mounting holes for each blade to allow the chopping action to be altered to suit different ingredients. How to set the knives for best results can be down to trial and error. (As with other makes and models of mixer, there are adjustable counter knives on the tub body that can help boost the chopping and mixing action). Although these mixers are 'simple' machines, getting the best from them can take a bit of time. If your used buy appears not to work as you expect, a few adjustments can make a significant difference.

At the base of the mixing auger there is a

The door opening indicator ram adjacent to the hopper access steps can get an air lock in the circuit and so give a false reading. Instructions on how to resolve this problem are listed in the operator's manual. Note the access steps are mounted on the chassis and not the tub.

The conveyor motor on earlier models could suffer pressure build up related problems which could lead to weeping seals. A relief valve plumbed into the face of the motor will cure this and is standard on all new and replacement motors. Note lubrication line running to conveyor front roller bearing (arrowed).

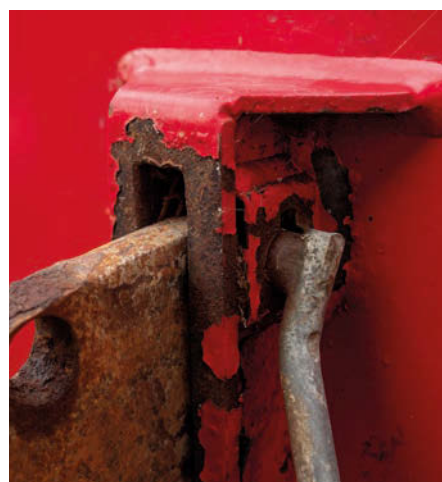

I WISH SOMEONE HAD TOLD ME...

- ...to wear gloves or to use a scraper when clearing debris from the auger magnet.
- ...to check the controllers are supplied with the correct cables and that all the electrics work.
- ...to ensure the product operator's manual is supplied with the machine and that it is correct for the machine purchased.
- ...to look on the Kverneland website to see if the software supplied with a used buy can be upgraded.
- ...to listen to any advice relating to the true costs associated with repairing a tired used buy.
- ...to check the pto length before just assuming it is right for the tractor.

'dummy paddle'. This balances the auger, helps to keep material on the move and aids clearing the tub when emptying.

NOTE: The knives at the top of the auger have reinforced mounting plates. This is to reduce the chance of them getting bent as bales are dropped in.

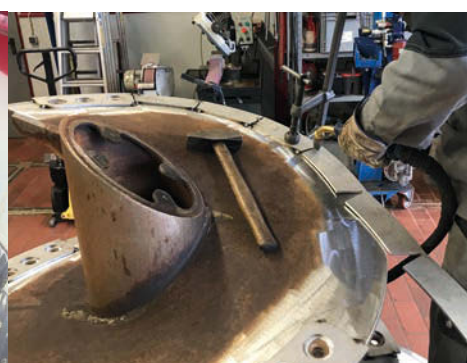

Is that it in terms of inspections? In part yes. It only takes a few words to outline the basic checks. >>

The retractable counter knives in the tub sides can be adjusted to alter the mix of materials. If the plate shoulders are rounded, as pictured, it shows root crops have been passed through the machine. This may have accelerated wear.

The load cells used by Siloking seldom give trouble, the cause of any problems typically relating to the wiring. Ensure any loose runs of wire on a used buy have not been snagged. There are two weigh cells on single auger models, four on the larger twin auger models. They can be checked by switching on the on-board weigh scale.

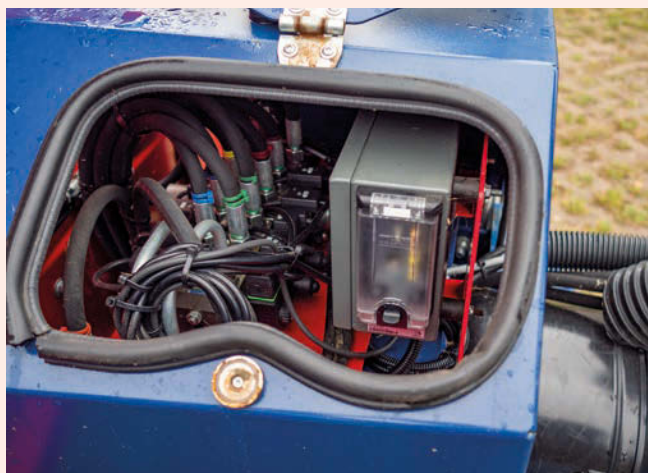

Kverneland offers auger flight wear repair packs, including the correct welding medium, to match all its Siloking augers. Supplied in sections to ease fitting (centre), the Silonox steel repair sections combine the hardness of Hardox with the acid resistance of stainless steel. Also available in sections for re-lining a worn tub, the kits are well worth considering when looking to extend the life of an otherwise sound machine. According to the company, it will take a welder with reasonable skills around a day to fit a kit to an auger with the caveat that is for one removed from the mixing tub. When re-lining the tub itself, the exterior paint will need refinishing. Although this refurb work may be within the scope of a farm workshop, consider the cost of having the welding done by a specialist as it needs to be done well with good welds to seal the seams properly. How much will this all cost?

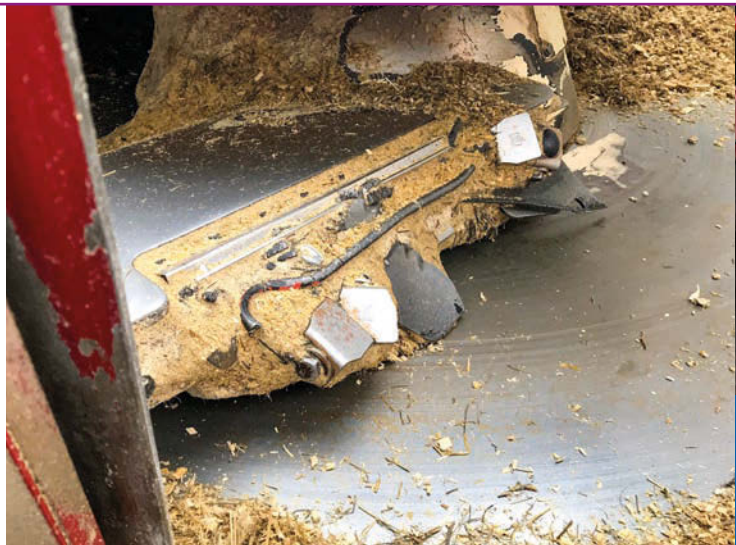

SILOKING WIRELESS TRANSFER, SILOKING DATA AND SILOKING FEEDING MANAGEMENT SOFTWARE

As outlined elsewhere, Siloking Wireless Transfer allows the mixer to be controlled remotely but this is just the basics. Radio-controlled weighing, control and documentation allows rations to be planned ahead of adding the various ingredients using free to use Feeding Management Software. Recipes can be sent to the terminal in the loading vehicle, the display listing the order in which specific ingredient are added to the mix.

Recipes can be stored or adjusted, with the aim of delivering the right mix repeatedly with a complete record of each and every mix. As the system uses the in-cab controller, the operator can fill the feed mixer from either side, adapt the rations by pressing a key in the terminal or skip feed components. The use of a smartphone or a tablet for loading is also possible. Transfer of updated data to the terminal is done via a local radio network or a standard USB stick.

Siloking Wireless Transfer controller to the left of the standard display attached to the feeder is an increasingly common spec choice these days. The system also includes free integration with the company's Feeding Management Software. The hardware for the wireless system is in part housed in a sealed box over the input gearbox, the radio-controlled weighing, control and documentation system also working with an app that will allow its operation via a smartphone. The software can be updated online and has no fees for new users. The standard Siloking in-cab controller has thumb buttons to control machine functions, some of which may not be used on a basic spec machine.

Siloking mixers are increasingly fitted with a large magnet at the base of the auger, the debris picked up in contaminated forage as pictured showing why. An OEM magnet retrofit will be expensive. Kverneland suggest fitting a smaller magnet at the top and bottom of the auger is less effective than a single powerful unit at the base.

<< In practice, however, it will take at least an hour to give a prospective buy a bit of a look over and on a private or auction buy you will miss something if do not carry out a proper check.

It is unlikely you will be able to pick up play in the rollers under the conveyor, but you can check for debris trapped on the roller surface by running your hand across the face of the conveyor and feeling for 'lumps'. The Twin Lift conveyor design has altered over the past few years, the original black (Left) and current red designs doing pretty much the same job. On the new belts, check the external belt tensioners for bearing wear (arrowed). If possible, run the conveyor to check the entire belt for damage. Temporary repair kits are available and are worth buying for emergencies (right).

WHAT SHOULD YOU PAY?

This is a tough one. Single auger mixers are always in strong demand, so will hold their price. Lower prices could secure a machine that is fine for low demand use but equally could buy a wagon that is just a few mixes away from scrap. Realistically, a decent unit suitable for over winter feeding a small beef herd is more likely to cost a fair chunk more, with around £8,000 to £10,000 perhaps representing a better starting budget. You can pay less but how long an entry-level buy will last will be a guess.

If you are after a larger twin-auger machine, perhaps as a back-up, a well-worn used buy can cost more to get up to decent working order than you may think. Even a comprehensive dealer service that includes new auger knives, a fresh conveyor belt, a gearbox flush and the renewal of a few bearings will cost the thick end of £2,000 and may also reveal that more work will be needed.

Also factor in the cost of a breakdown. If a machine is out of action for a day or two, the costs go way beyond getting the machine fixed. This is all too easy to overlook when faced with what looks like a bargain price used buy. Typically you get what you pay for.

SUMMARY

Finding a pre-owned Siloking mixer is not difficult but securing a sound buy takes time and effort. The best advice is to establish what you need from the machine and do some costings based upon how much it costs to prepare the rations for all the stock the mixer is expected to serve. The more you depend on this type of machine the more you need to tread with used buying care.

It follows that a tandem axle with suspension, brakes and rear wheel steer will need far more inspection time than the single, non-suspended design fitted to lower capacity compact models destined for yard work. Take a good look for wheel rim damage (Centre). Single axle machines may have only seen short trips around the yard but still check as the tyres are just as liable to damage.

PERFORMANCE BOOST

Case IH's Luxxum tractors have been upgraded with a new engine and other features, continuing its position as a key choice amongst all-purpose utility tractors. The three all-rounder models, designed for mid-size livestock and mixed farms deliver 101hp, 110hp and 117hp and now offer even better performance while meeting latest, Stage V, engine emissions regulations.

Still paired with the ActiveDrive 4 smooth-shifting semi-automatic transmission, the new FPT Stage V four-cylinder engine provides more power and greater efficiency. The new larger capacity F5 engine is a 3.6 litre, taking up the same space as the previous engine, which maintains the Luxxum's compact overall size.

The new engine has a number of performance benefits, including increased power output at the lower end of the range, and up to 5% higher torque levels, delivering higher productivity and better a driving experience. Maximum torque is now hit at the lower engine speed of 1,300rpm, which improves load response and start capability under heavy loads.

NEW EXHAUST AFTER-TREATMENT SYSTEM

The new Luxxum tractors also get a new exhaust after-treatment system, the maintenance-free "Compact HI-eSCR2" solution. To meet Stage V legislation, this integrates a diesel oxidation catalyst (DOC), a maintenance-free particulate filter and a selective catalyst reduction (SCR) unit.

The engine's low rate of exhaust gas recirculation, which at under 10% currently is the best on the market, helps optimise combustion while minimising the SCR's system in a single compact layout, all located under the hood. As a result, forward visibility for the operator is unaffected as is the tractor's manoeuvrability. The Compact HI-eSCR2 after-treatment system is maintenance-free, which means no replacement of components or less mechanical cleaning during the whole lifecycle.

NEW FEATURES AND NEW L SERIES FRONT LOADER

Luxxum Stage V tractors now come with some new options, emphasising its leading position in the all-purpose utility market. An optional leather steering wheel, and carpet on the cab floor, will be available as it is on its bigger brothers, as will two new worklights, increasing the total number to ten, for easier and safer operation at night and on dark days.

As an all-purpose utility tractor, front loader operation is key for the Luxxum's owners. The new machines will have a fully compatible electrohydraulic joystick that speeds up work rates. It combines the front loader controls with those for the transmission, so there is no need to switch between the Multicontroller and joystick.

The joystick works with new L series front loaders, which come in different ranges to meet different customer needs. The 'A' range is a functional, simple, reliable and economical product, while the 'U' range is ideal for everyday handling tasks. The flagship 'T' range is designed for intensive handling work. A wide range of attachments are also available.

Ordering a suitable loader for a new Luxxum Stage V tractor has been made even simpler and smarter, as it has for its stable-mates Puma, Maxxum, Vestrum and Farmall C. The new L Series can now be ordered through the Case IH dealer configurator digital software as a single purchase of the selected tractor and its chosen matched loader.

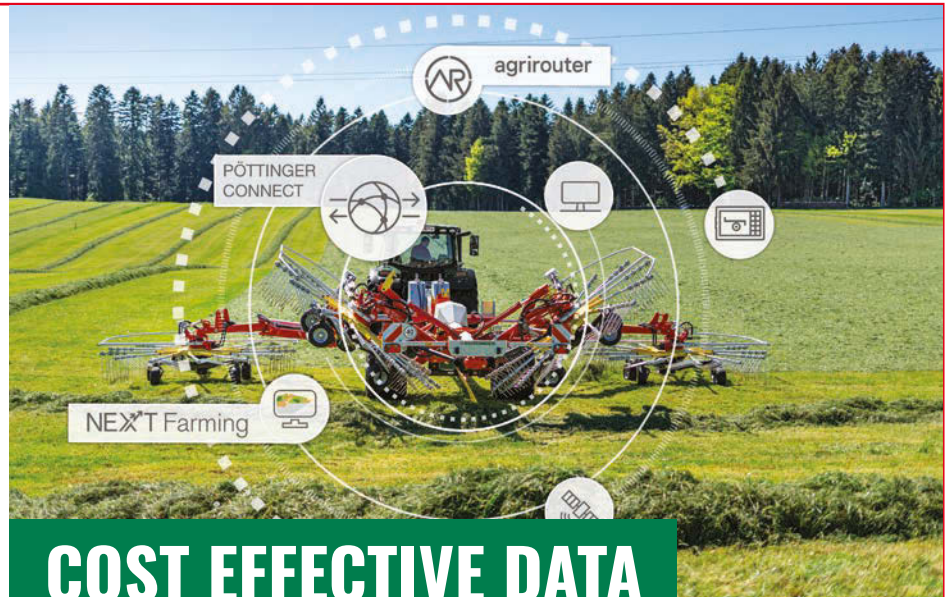

Pöttinger Connect telemetry unit provides access to the world of networked data. It looks after the functions for controlling, recording and transmitting data of ISOBUS-controlled machines. Simple operation and a certified data interface make this telemetry unit quick and efficient to use. Pöttinger Connect is available from 1 August 2022.

CERTIFIED INTERFACE

The telemetry module has a certified data interface to agrirouter, the internet-based data exchange platform. For worldwide implementation, many farm management information systems can be connected. Together with Next Machine Management and Next field indexing software, Pöttinger offers the possibility to visualise data and document it over the long term. Automated recording and transmission of data ensures that they are backed up permanently. This ensures complete and professional documentation is compiled and avoids data chaos.

its intelligent terminals; Power Control, Expert 75 and CCI 1200, as solutions for every application. A better overview in the tractor cab is provided by using just one terminal.

HIGH COST EFFECTIVENESS

Pöttinger Connect offers the possibility of using Precision Farming applications easily and cost effectively. The module takes over task controller jobs, enabling simple and straightforward applications such as Section Control (TC-SC) and Variable Rate Control (TC-GEQ). This reduces the number of passes required and saves on running costs. It guarantees cost effective and resource saving operation.

STEVE MAY WINS TOP SPRAYER OPERATOR AWARD

Northamptonshire arable farm foreman, Steve May, has won the highly prestigious title of Farm Sprayer Operator of the Year 2022.

Presented at the Syngenta Sprays & Sprayers event in Cambridgeshire, as part of Cereals 2022, the Farm Sprayer Operator of the Year (FSOOTY) rewards the top operators for skills and awareness of safe and efficient operations.

The pick of six great finalists selected from farms and contracting businesses across the UK, Steve operates across more than 800 hectares (2,000 acres) of arable cropping for Fromant & Sanders, based at Kislingbury, Northampton.

A previous finalist in 2018, Steve now operates a John Deere R962i, fitted with a 6000 litre tank and 36m boom. Equipped to a high specification, Steve reported he makes the most of the sprayer's electronic technology, which includes TwinSelect dual nozzles, as well as RTK GPS guidance.

"Along with automatic boom levelling, the sprayer has made the job more precise, as well as more pleasurable," he added. The TwinSelect feature enables Steve to choose between two different nozzles or running both together, which he says is particularly useful for applications at 200 litres/ha.

Other recent developments on the farm include a new chemical store, constructed from a converted refrigerated container. It is insulated and fully bunded, along with a 30,000 litre capacity water tank enabling faster sprayer turnaround and greater output per day.

Already BASIS and FACTS qualified, Steve has now progressed by taking further BASIS modules, including a BASIS diploma and Harper Adams Diploma in agronomy.

Syngenta application specialist and FSOOTY judge, Scott Cockburn, commented how all six finalists had demonstrated a deep knowledge of sprayer operation and exemplified good practice to consistently achieve optimum results, whilst achieving safe and accurate application.

"There are so many good examples and Top Tips to share with other operators across the UK. Elevating the skills and best practice of all farm sprayer operators is an essential step to improving all aspects of application.

"Steve stood out for his experience and understanding of his spraying activities and his commitment to continue learning and improving the integration of sprayer operation with the farm's agronomy.

"It really emphasised the vitally important part that the sprayer operator plays in ensuring the business meets its productivity and efficiency goals."

"We are honoured to make our own special salute to the Queen as the first British Monarch to celebrate a Platinum Jubilee after 70 years of service," comments Lindsay Haddon, Massey Ferguson Advertising and Sales Promotion Manager. "It's especially exciting as 2022 also marks the 175th anniversary of Massey Ferguson."

Highlighting this double celebration, the striking Platinum Jubilee MF 8S features examples of MF logos which have appeared over the course of the company's long history. These nine logos reflect the evolution of the brand identity from the mid-19th century through to the present day.

The multi-award winning MF 8S tractor is being supplied by south Staffordshire-based KO Machines, local Massey Ferguson dealer for Staffordshire, Shropshire and the West Midlands.

"The tractor looks stunning in its superb livery,"

QUICK AND EFFICIENT BALES

The upgraded Case IH RB 344 fixed chamber round baler adds a host of innovative design and performance features to the best elements of the previous model. Offering excellent value for money, this compact and manoeuvrable newcomer handles all baling tasks with ease so that the farmer only needs one machine.

Michał Jankowski, Case IH Product Marketing Manager, states: "The RB 344 has gained a very strong following throughout Europe because of its ability to produce dense, perfectly-formed 120cm x 125cm bales in all crop conditions. Farmers also appreciate its ease of operation, versatility, reliability, durability and low maintenance costs."

"The new version of this very popular, highly effective baler has a modern, visually-striking design in keeping with other Case IH products. We have two models, the RB 344 F Rotor Feeder and RB 344 R Rotor Cutter, which are available from Case IH dealers right now. Both are very efficient and work comfortably behind tractors of less than 80hp."

The most obvious design feature of the RB 344 is its modern side shield, which incorporates a robust metal frame, top hinges and gas strut supports. Opening wide for easy access for service and maintenance, it also protects spare rolls of net wrap stored on the machine. Rubber bumpers on both sides of the tailgate's frame ensure that it closes smoothly and quietly, while the wiring harness now runs inside the bull bar and front lights have been repositioned for a robust, professional appearance.

Behind its attractive new panelling the RB 344 introduces a host of mechanical improvements which enhance performance and durability while reducing operating costs. The stripper roll, bale chamber, floor roll and pick-up, for example, are now driven by high-quality drive chains with chromised pins and hardened plates that have a longer life cycle and reduce maintenance costs. The bearings which support the main drive, stripper roll, and drive side rotor have also been upgraded with highly efficient seals that prevent dust contamination.

Equipped with closely spaced steel tines and long pick-up guards which are painted red to make them more visible, the 2m pick-up collects the crop and delivers it in a smooth, continuous flow to the feeder and bale chamber. This maximises intake capacity so even heavy swaths can be handled without losses, while the Duckbill feeding system ensures a reliable net start in all crop conditions. A precise density control system ensures that bales are formed to the exact specifications that have been set which can be adjusted or monitored from the tractor seat.

Operators have an excellent view across the full width of the pick-up, which helps to maximise crop gathering and maintain bale shape. The design of the RB 344 also ensures that the bales are correctly formed and uniformly wrapped right to the edges whether the crop is wet, wilted, or dry, so that all its nutritional value and storage potential is retained. Regardless of whether net, plastic film or twine is used for wrapping, cutting is fast and automatic, leaving the bale ready for immediate ejection.

A further aid to reliable high performance is the well-proven Case IH Hydraulic Rotor Reverser, a factory fit option for the Rotor Feeder model. This uses a free-run clutch which allows the operator to quickly and easily reverse the rotor to clear a blockage without leaving the cab.

The versatility of the RB 344 is further improved by the Rotor Cutter, with 15 electrically selected knives that ensure the crop is cut evenly, improving the quality of baled material and reducing crop losses. Another feature is the slat-chain chamber system which ensures a positive start to bale formation under all crop conditions, saving time and producing well-shaped bales.

ULTIMATE PRODUCTIVITY

JCB has launched the 457S, a new 20-tonne flagship for its market-leading agricultural wheeled loader range, with payloads in excess of six tonnes delivering ultimate loading performance for sugar beet hauliers, big biogas plants, large-scale contract silage and muck spreading teams.

The new machine joins JCB's top-end 419S and 435S wheeled loaders purpose-built for agricultural applications. While it shares some elements of the established JCB 457 used for stockpiling and loading out of large bulk commodity stores, the 'S' version has a new rear chassis and counterweight, and new transmission, axles, wheels and tyres to give it outstanding capabilities for demanding outdoor roles.

At the heart of the loader is a new powershift transmission with six forward and three reverse ratios, with torque converter lock-up giving direct mechanical drive available in all six forward gears as the standard configuration.

Alternatively, the operator can use a new menu on the in-cab settings and operator information display to select torque converter lock-up in any reverse gear and any of the lowest three forward gears to suit different applications and driver preferences.

The combination of direct mechanical drive, close-ratio gearbox and class-leading 14hp per tonne power-to-weight ratio results in impressive pushing and climbing performance, making full use of the 282hp (210kW) and 1,200Nm peak torque of the 6.7 litre six-cylinder Cummins B6.7 engine.

For less demanding material handling applications, the operator can revert to the default 'standard' power output of 224hp (167kW) to save fuel, with auto engine shut-down after a period at idle, also contributing to overall fuel economy.

When on the move, a top speed of either 40kph or 48kph enables the loader to keep pace with manure spreading and silage harvesting teams, and a 20-tonne capacity Rockinger tow hitch with drawbar location camera can be added, together with either twin-line hydraulic or air-ready trailer braking.

To help keep the engine and oil cooling systems at peak efficiency, a large cooling fan is installed with programmable automatic reversing to disperse dust and debris, and the fan assembly swings out to give quick and clear access for cleaning the radiator matrix.

A new rear chassis design provides increased fuel storage capacity of 400 litres within the structure to keep the loader running during a busy schedule of heavy loading, and there is a re-profiled counterweight giving the clearance needed for filling a silage clamp.

The new JCB 457S runs on heavier duty 20-stud axles that can be equipped with either limited slip or auto locking differentials to get optimum traction when the ground is slippery, while a wider track width permits larger tyres to be fitted.

For field and yard applications, the 710/75 R32 Trelleborg TM2000 and 800/65 R32 Michelin MegaXbib 2 radial traction tyres provide first-rate grip and durability while keeping the new wheeled loader within 3.0m overall width, while for predominantly hard-surface operations, Michelin XHA 23.5 R25 L3 radials can be fitted all round.

Front end performance is determined by which of two loader arm options is chosen: the standard High Torque arms give muscular tear-out performance and a lift height of 4.3m, while the High Lift alternative increases the clearance over hoppers and AD plant feedstock bunkers to 4.8m at the attachment pivot pin.

Contractors and large farms clamping grass or maize for silage or as an AD feedstock can make full use of the 457S loader's performance by adding the new 4.88m (16ft) wide, 7.10 cubic metre capacity Folding Grass Fork developed specifically for the new machine.

MORE COMFORT AND POWER

John Deere's 5G series tractors now offer more model diversity and comfort for the varied tasks involved in high-value crop farming. The series has undergone a complete update for all tractors above 75hp, including new, more powerful models in the GV, GN, GF and GL configuration.

NEW FEATURES FOR CAB VERSIONS

A key new 5G feature is the five-speed Hi-Lo PowrReverser™ Eco-transmission, which enables travel at 40kph with reduced engine revolutions, making the tractors more fuel efficient and more comfortable to drive.

To meet individual customer requirements, new models have been added to the 5G Series. Chief of these are the new 5115 tractors for the GF, GN and GV model series that deliver up to 120hp maximum power from a 3.6l four-cylinder engine. Furthermore, John Deere offers more power versatility for operation in the tightest rows in the vineyard as the GV model range gets two new power ranges – the 5105G and 5115G with a maximum power of 105hp and 120hp respectively.

TAILORED TO THE OPERATOR

The redesigned cab is now better adapted to the driver's needs. The new design offers improved ergonomics as well as more legroom, which increases driving comfort and makes working with the new 5G tractors an even more enjoyable task. A significantly reduced bonnet height provides an unrivalled view to the front. More visibility, especially during the night, is also provided by the optional LED lighting.

While the new cab makes the work more comfortable, the driver's health will also benefit. The Category IV filter system (in accordance with EN 15695) integrated into the roof of the driver's cab is an available option and provides protection against dust, aerosols that are hazardous to health and vapours.

Another highlight of the latest 5G Series tractors is the new 5-inch digital display, which presents important vehicle information centrally in front of the driver and even allows various tractor and machine settings to be changed conveniently.

TAILORED TO EFFICIENCY

The new tractors are not only easier to operate, they are also getting smarter. The tractors can optionally be equipped with ISOBUS and retrofitted with the JD-Link telematics module. This allows the tractors to be connected to the free of charge John Deere Operations Center, which saves time and money. Operations can be digitised and planned more easily as state-of-the-art fleet management tools come with the tractor for free.

To manage work on steep slopes and narrow rows more efficiently, the tractors can be equipped with comprehensive features such as Dynamic Steering and AutoClutch.

Dynamic Steering features include:

- Steering wheel resistance automatically changes with ground speed.
- At slower speeds, the steering effort required is significantly reduced, especially during tight turning manoeuvres.
- Higher steering wheel torque is made possible when driving on roads at transport speed.

This all improves the driver's comfort and control over the tractor. The AutoClutch function makes it easier to manoeuvre on slopes, as the clutch is engaged with the brake pedal.

ADDITIONAL UPDATES

In orchards with low-hanging pergola crops, John Deere's 5G series also offers an open station (OOS) or a low-profile cab. While a new 105hp tractor for the GL range offers more power versatility, the larger driver's seats provide more driving comfort for orchard work.

The tractors under 75hp have received the Stage V update already, retaining the known and proven properties of the predecessor models.

TARGETED WORMING SYSTEM

Cotter Agritech has announced the UK launch of its award-winning Cotter Crate system and SmartWorm app, an innovative hardware and software solution to help sheep farmers cut labour costs and tackle worm resistance by reducing wormer use by up to 40% and identifying worm resistant/resilient replacements.

The Cotter Crate is a sheep handling crate that makes doing stock management tasks to both lambs and adult sheep quick, easy and safe, including dosing, vaccinating, tagging, dagging, weighing, moulting, body condition scoring, and 3-way drafting.

Developed by sheep farming brothers Jack and Nick Cotter, the Cotter Crate was created having recognised the industry's need for a handling system that focuses on making lamb handling easier, and also caters to adult sheep. The result is a simple to use system, where the animal is comfortably held under its own weight at operator height, without any pressure being applied, resulting in a calm handling experience for both handler and livestock and reducing animal handling time by up to 50%.

Launching alongside the Cotter Crate is SmartWorm, an advanced weighing and targeted selective treatment (TST) phone app that enables weight recording, treatment management, and uniquely enables farmers to conduct targeted selective worming based on an algorithm. This app can be used with the Cotter Crate, or with other sheep handling and weighing equipment already on-farm, to conduct targeted selective treatment.

The built-in worming algorithm enables a sheep farmer to reduce their use of wormers by up to 40%, without a loss of animal performance by identifying in real time, which animals would, or would not benefit from a wormer treatment. The algorithm calculates a lamb's potential growth based on a number of factors (weight gain, rainfall and temperature, and pasture availability and quality) and gives them an individual target. If they are not reaching this target, it recommends treating the animal.

Controlling worms is one of the biggest challenges facing sheep farmers in the UK. Modern worm control is becoming unsustainable due to resistance issues with anthelmintics (or wormers) on the majority of sheep farms in the UK, and negative environmental impacts. Resistance is costing the UK sheep farming industry £84 million per year.

Jack explains: "Our hardware and software solution is the most practical, simplest and complete way of reducing wormer use on-farm. Farmers can now do TST in a manner which doesn't slow them down. This solution unlocks this technology onto the sheep farming industry."

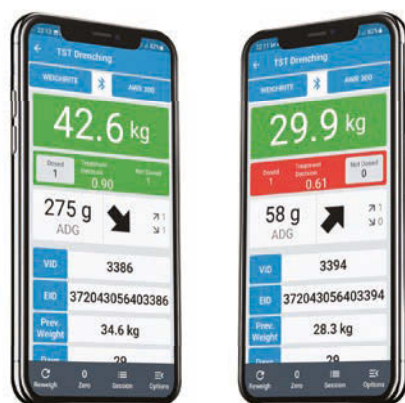

Farmers who already have suitable weighing equipment to use the algorithm can download the SmartWorm app. A three month free trial is currently available.

Hardware features:

- Entirely mechanical with no power requirements
- Stainless steel construction, finished with animal-friendly plastic panels throughout.
- Optional mobility kit available.

Software features:

- Algorithm requires no internet, recommendation given instantaneously with simple red (treat) or green (don't treat) indication
- Only requires 2 inputs to set up algorithm: pasture availability (estimate in centimetres), and pasture quality (Poor, Average or Good)
- Weight recording sheepsides, see ADG in real time, up to eight way drafting, manage treatments
- Integration with major weigh bar brands (Trutest), EID readers (Allflex, Agrident, Trutest), and sheep management software platforms (FarmIT3000, TGM, AgriWebb etc.)

NEW RANGE OF ARTICULATED LOADERS

Manitou Group presents its new range of articulated loaders. The Group's aim is to offer a very wide range of products to meet the needs of all its users.

ONE OF THE MOST EXTENSIVE RANGES ON THE MARKET

With 12 new models, Manitou Group has extended its range of articulated loaders, which now comprises 22 models, all available under the Gehl AL (Articulated Loader) and Manitou MLA (Manitou Loader Articulated) brands. These new products offer a load capacity ranging from 700kg to 1.5 tonnes for a lifting height of between 2.50m for a short arm and 3.07m for a long arm. In order to offer a level of performance adapted to each model, series 2 and 3 models are equipped with a 25hp stage V engine, and series 4 and 5 with 48hp. The complete range makes it possible to respond to very wide-ranging demands, with the largest of the articulated loaders providing a nominal load capacity of up to 3.3 tonnes. This depth of range is aimed at many markets thanks to a wide selection of attachments comprising more than 100 products, including buckets, forks and bale clamps, as well as levelers and augers.

The wide variety of applications enables the group to target very different markets, be it agriculture, with stable and livestock maintenance, or construction, with specifically designed models (AL320/MLA 3-25 H-C and AL420/MLA 4-50 H-C for "construction"). These two versions also allow pallets of materials to be handled on urban sites, where there are space constraints. All the models are equipped with hydrostatic transmission for added performance. The Manitou MLA 2-25H and Gehl AL 230 models have a hydraulic motor on each wheel to make these small machines even more manoeuvrable.

A WIDE BUT COMPACT OFFER

Manitou Group has worked on the design of these new machines to create models that are more ergonomic and even more slim-line than previous ones, while still offering a very high level of performance. The engine hoods have been shortened and the engine positioned lengthwise to the chassis to reduce the size of series 3 and 4 models. The minimum width is 1.10m. The chassis has also been revised to reduce the length of these products. The low height of between 2.14m and 2.29m for the biggest models also allows them to be maneuvered easily in tight spaces. A joystick makes them quick to master, by new and experienced users alike. In addition, optimal 360° visibility around the cab ensures a very high level of safety for users. Frédéric Crul, manager of the articulated loader range, adds: "We want to provide our users with solutions that are tailored to their needs with compact, high-performance machines that can move around easily in any kind of environment."

EASILY TRANSPORTABLE RANGE

To facilitate the movement of these loaders between different work sites or farms, certain models are transportable on a 3,500 kg PTAC trailer, which can be used with a basic BE license. The weight ranges from 1.5 t for series 2 to 2.6 t for series 5 models. This advantage allows the Group to adapt to the constraints of rental companies and tradespeople, who have to move their handling equipment very frequently within a very short time frame.

TAILORED SERVICES

Like all machines designed by Manitou Group, all these articulated loaders are connected, sending information directly on the My Gehl and My Manitou smartphone applications, enabling users to monitor their activity and anticipate maintenance operations.

ROBUST AND COST EFFECTIVE

Massey Ferguson is proud to announce the introduction of the new 54hp, MF 1755 E and 40hp, MF 1740 E compact tractors. Both are powered by the latest Stage V compliant engines and come equipped with mechanical gearboxes.

The 54hp, MF 1755 E is equipped with a flat-floor platform, while there's a semi-platform on the 40hp, MF 1740 E. Both come with four-wheel drive as standard, as well as high performance engines and transmissions.

- Choice of two new affordable four-wheel drive compact tractors. The MF 1700 E Series is ideally suited to hard work on smaller farms, horticultural operations, orchards, vineyards and equestrian centres
- New 40hp, MF 1740 E semi-platform model with 8 x 8 mechanical gearbox
- New 54hp, MF 1755 E with flat-floor platform and 12 x 12 mechanical gearbox
- Proven three-cylinder or four-cylinder, latest technology engines meet latest Stage V emissions with straightforward 'All in One' system
- Reliable mechanical transmissions
- Designed to deliver straightforward and dependable operation with low ownership costs.

DEPENDABLE, AFFORDABLE AND VERSATILE WORKHORSES

With the launch of the MF 1700 E tractors, Massey Ferguson is increasing choice in this important and popular sector, now providing affordable, easy to use, entry-level options that complement the existing MF 1500 and MF 1700 M Series.

These two new models in the MF 1700 E Series are designed specifically to be easy to use and deliver straightforward and dependable operation across a wide range of enterprises.

MF 1755 E – YOUR STRONG PARTNER

Delivering 54hp, and built on a 1,980mm wheelbase, the MF 1755 E offers the power, strength and stability to carry out a wide range of work on small farms, horticultural units and other enterprises.

Power is provided by a four-cylinder, 2.4 litre engine, which is the same as that used in the largest models in the latest MF 1700 M Series. This meets the strict Stage V emissions regulations using innovative 'All in One' SCR technology, which is designed for the life of the tractor.

Routine engine maintenance is made easy thanks to the one-piece bonnet. This lifts fully open, with gas strut assistance, providing full access for checks and servicing.

EFFICIENT TRANSMISSION

An easy to use, 12 forward/12 reverse mechanical gearbox with shuttle reverser is standard on the MF 1755 E. Well proven on the MF 1755 M and the MF 1765 M, this offers four gears in three ranges, which are changed by levers mounted conveniently alongside the seat. Synchronised direction changes are made simply using the shuttle lever, located below the steering wheel on the left-hand side.

With its 1,200kg lift capacity, Cat 1 three-point linkage and 32.2 litre/min hydraulic flow, the MF 1755 E is capable of handling and operating a wide range of implements in the field and yard. Operators can set the exact working height using position control and also adjust the linkage lifting and lowering speeds.

The 540rpm Independent pto is activated electro-hydraulically, using a conveniently located switch on the dashboard. This provides a choice of standard engagement or Soft Start for high inertia loads. A stationary pto switched mounted on the fender is standard.

Four floating rubber insulators minimise vibrations to the MF 1755 E's flat-floor platform.

Just below the steering wheel is a clear, modern dashboard, with a large rpm gauge at its centre, surrounded by a comprehensive array of warning lights and a large fuel gauge to the left.

The platform's user-friendly design offers clear access and plenty of hand grips. Operators will find the controls are arranged in a neat and logical layout and are easy to reach. Moulded plastic covers around the levers enhance the appearance.

MF 1740 E – YOUR DEPENDABLE WORKHORSE

At 40hp, MF 1740 E looks set to be a popular choice. With its 1,675mm wheelbase and semi-platform operator station, it offers the power and dimensions to suit a wide range of tasks – from out in the fields to operating in orchards or undercover in polytunnels.

A three-cylinder, 1.8 litre engine, well proven on the MF 1735 M and MF 1740 M models, powers the MF 1740 E and meets the Stage V emissions regulations with the same exclusive, 'All-in-One' system, designed for the life of the tractor.

It also benefits from the same one-piece bonnet that lifts clear to provide easy access for routine maintenance and servicing.

WELCOME BACK!

Thousands of visitors flocked to the ever-popular South of England Show to welcome back livestock and equine competitions after a three-year break caused by the pandemic.

The South of England Showground at Ardingly, West Sussex, welcomed nearly 400 livestock competition classes, more than 70 different equestrian displays and competitions including international showjumping, heavy horses and the always thrilling inter hunt relay. There were performances from a military brass band and the chance to visit an Army village.

Organised by the South of England Agricultural Society (SEAS), the South of England Show was established to celebrate, and educate the public about, all things agricultural. One of the key events in the UK countryside calendar each year, it is attended by agricultural and equestrian professionals and enthusiasts and enjoyed by thousands of people from all over the region.

ONE TO REMEMBER

Fine weather, large crowds, impressive livestock, a great range of trade stands and some superb arena events made this year's Heathfield Show one to remember.

Finally released from the confines of lockdown, around 19,000 people attended the show at Little Tottingworth Farm, Broad Oak, to enjoy attractions that included a Hurricane fly-by and an impressive display by the broke FMX freestyle motocross team.

The main ring also hosted some great young riders competing in the Cranwell Wealth Solutions Shetland Pony Grand National and a display by riders and hounds from the East Sussex & Romney Marsh Foxhounds, the Southdown & Eridge Foxhounds and Ashford Valley, all of which soon intermingled in happy chaos.

The Heathfield Silver Band and the ever-popular Sheep Show also attracted good crowds, while a range of country craft displays and trade stands proved popular with visitors. A splendid turnout of vintage tractors and other farm machinery was another big draw, both at their static location and when they paraded in the main ring towards the end of the day.

Show secretary Nicola Magill said the show had been a huge success, with great feedback from visitors throughout the day and since. Exhibitors included a large number of agricultural machinery dealerships, land agents, contractors and producers, all taking the opportunity to meet up with friends and customers old and new.

Peter Love, the joint creator of Tractor & Machinery and Classic Tractor, gives Farm Machinery his views on this month's events.

ROADLESS LAND ROVER ALL YOURS FOR £110,000!

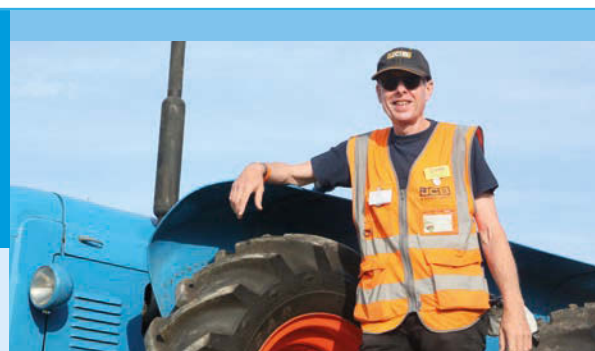

In the late 1950s Roadless Traction Co at Houslow was asked by the Forestry Commission to further develop the Land Rover to work in rough terrain conditions particularly in forestry and bog like situations where the normal Land Rovers could not cope. These machines of which no more than 18 were actually built carried 10 x 28in wheels and tyres, Studebaker axles and were coupled with Kirkstall hub reduction mechanisms. This example was offered in the Tennants auctioneers car and memorabilia sale on Saturday 14 May at Leyburn, North Yorkshire.

Thought to be a prototype, registered in May 1959 and carrying a diesel engine (not petrol like the other survivors) + disc brakes from new. Land Rover did not give Roadless approval to produce the 109 until 1961 and five of these survive today. It was purchased in 1997 by the vendor for we believe no more than £14,000. Bidding started at £50,000! In no time at all the excellent auctioneer hammered it down at £110,000 + commission a massive record looking very original, but certainly very slow on the road with a low ratio box and hardly any steering lock!

Roadless Land Rover 2 Rare to see with some unique features compared to the other five Roadless Land Rover Series 2s to survive it sold for a remarkable £110,000 on Saturday 14 May.

As it's that time of year and life is getting back to normal (sort of) I wanted to review some of the best agricultural preservation machinery events to take place so far this year, particularly as the weather has been so good. But first here are the top lots to be sold in this sector this month...

MASSEY FERGUSON 1250 BEATS ITS OWN RECORD

The vendor went on to double his money with the Massey Ferguson 1250 grade 5 at £70,000 +VAT.

East Anglian-based auctioneer, Cheffins, hosted an on site sale of over 40 classic and vintage Massey Ferguson tractors and implements on Saturday 7 May in Skipton, Yorkshire. The tractors were sold on behalf of well-known collector, Alan Bancroft.

Everybody wanted to see Alan's 1982 Massey Ferguson 1250 that had got 2,245 hours on the clock and in grade 5 condition. Alan paid record money when he originally bought it. Bidding certainly created a tense atmosphere with the price rising quickly, then slowing down before creeping up to the amazing selling price of £70,000 +VAT with a well-deserved round of applause following. It was double the price he actually paid for it!

It was a fitting highlight to an extremely interesting sale. It is very rare for an incredible line-up of Massey Fergusons like this to go under the hammer, with so many quality machines on offer and records being broken continuously.

Seen at the sale with the other venerable crawlers is the International TD-24 that sold for £31,000.

INTERNATIONAL TD-24 AT £31,000

The Steve Kitcart crawler sale featuring nearly 30 International Harvester Co crawler tractors and over 900 lots near Cheltenham, staged by H J Pugh took place on Saturday 28 May.

It saw the main lot sell for £31,000 a gigantic 20-ton International TD-24 the 'king' of the company's crawlers when it was introduced in 1947. The key feature with these machines was the two-speed planetary power steering that was ahead of the game. Initially the model came into production too early and was an embarrassment to the company and a number went back and were scrapped but it turned out to be going well in 1951 when 1,061 were sold that year. The model was updated in late 1955 as the TD-24 series 241.

This fine example had been well restored by Jeremy Walker from Oxfordshire who used the crawler with a scraper bowl at a LINK club event at Sibbertoft, Northamptonshire where it worked so well. It was offered for sale through Tractor & Machinery and Classic Plant and Machinery magazines where Steve purchased it from. The new owner comes from the West Country.

ACTON SCOTT ON THE ROPES

The well-known Acton Scott Historic Working Farm, near Church Stretton, as featured on BBC2's Victorian Farm in 2009 is unfortunately facing permanent closure. It's been on the cards for sometime now with the sale of the preserved machinery some time ago – featuring Massey Ferguson 735 combine, Fordson Standard N, E27N and Majors which made good money at the time.

The rural life farm run by Shropshire Museums has seen a drastic turndown in visitor numbers, not helped at all by Covid-19 restrictions. This historic site has been part of the Acton family estate for over 900 years and the working farm site was a leader in agricultural preservation but is now on the back foot.

MASSEY FERGUSON 135 FOR £25,000

At the Tractor World show sale organised by H J Pugh & Co on Saturday 21 May at Three-Counties Showground one of the highlights came early when £25,000 was paid for an original grade 3 1975 Massey Ferguson 135 with Sekura cab.

It carries an Irish log book, and has been sold to northern Scotland.

Some £25,000 was paid for this low houred Massey Ferguson 135 on 21 May

The three-cylinder engine has plenty of power to climb the hills of East Sussex.

JUST RESTORED

It was a pleasure to receive a call from Chris Wells of RLG Tyres, Rushlake Green, East Sussex to say that his 1973 Ford 4000 was all finished and ready for the road!

What a sight it made when I arranged a visit to see Chris's latest restoration – he's been a Fordson E1A Major man through and through.

The tractor came from Moieties Farm, Cowbeech and had been standing in a field for some time. It had a fuel problem and would start for five minutes and suddenly stop, but Chris did not know this at the time until informed by others! After asking too much money a deal was eventually done and it came back to the RLG Tyres site – well known for supplying 4 x 4 and agricultural tyres to owners in the south east and further afield.

Thanks to Rob Leaves the problem with the fuel was finally narrowed down to the fuel tank filter valve, which became blocked by particles in the tank after five minutes of running. With this removed the tractor ran superbly, but in the restoration process the tank was power washed a number of times to cure the problem for good.

Much other work was done on the tractor particularly to the panels which are mostly original, and painted by employee Lewis Tripp who has done an excellent job and the Ford synthetic paint was supplied by Trade Paints Ltd, Hailsham. Chris would like to thank Rob Curd of Haynes, the New Holland dealer, for all his help in various ways, particularly sourcing quality parts.

The well-known parish councillor looks forward to having the tractor out on local road runs in the future and if you need any tyres for your tractor do give him a call, his prices are very competitive, according to our correspondent.

WOODHOUSE SUSSEX SPRING PLOUGHING CHAMPIONSHIP

The best novice award went to Sam Tingley with his 1964 International 414 outfit do you have the correct nose panel for this tractor?

Overall winner here was Derek Turner with his Fordson E1A Diesel Major and TS59J.

Now in its 12th year the Woodhouse ploughing match near Henfield, West Sussex was staged by Colin and Gilly Broucke. The event is so liked by ploughman as "it's organised by people who know what they are doing," one competitor said.

In fact that was certainly the case on Saturday 9 April when the 30 competitors came together for the trailer, vintage and classic plough classes, held in glorious weather conditions.

Gary Rutter was here with his Kent registered Fordson Standard N OKE155 with an early Perkins P6 fitted and E27N steering. On the back was a RSJ TS45 Midtrac plough and the outfit was to take first prize in the trailer class by early afternoon.

In the mounted class Geoff Burse took top honours with his Ferguson P3 conversion and with Ransomes Robin on the back. Geoff says he is thinking of selling his excellent very low hours Ford 6610 four-wheel drive and Kverneland match plough.

Across the way in the classic class Ian Linch was the hot favourite to win with his MF 35 and RSJ 59 plough, but was to finish runner-up to Derek Turner with his Fordson Diesel Major and TS59J who took the overall award as well. A very good day was had by everyone and the match was run in a very friendly atmosphere. You need to come to this event next year it's one of the best.

STUNNING STRADSETT

Gordon Carson is to be congratulated for all his hard work in making the 44th Stradsett Park Vintage Rally happen on 1-2 May with the help of a number of fellow East Anglia NVTEC members. It took place at Stradsett Park, Downham Market on the estate of Alfred Bagge and family, there was something for everyone and it had the best tractor content of any rally held up to the end of May this year.

The event was catching up on its missed two years and the show special displays were: '75 years of the Fordson E27N Major' (now in its 77th year), Minneapolis Moline and the quartet was completed by 'Eastern European Tractors' made up of essentially Czechoslovakian Zetor and one Hungarian Dutra.

Gordon has moved the site around again and it looked to be a better set up. Despite the fact that most rallies do not have so many trade stands as they did pre-Covid, Gordon was still well supported although he was down on four refreshment stands. Despite this the other such stands coped as well as they could with the long patient queues and at reasonable prices (hot dog £4, tea £1).

NUFFIELD NO. 2 DEBUTS AT TRACTOR WORLD

This what you got for your £5,000. When the tractor was sold into preservation it cost three times that to restore it to a high standard.

Owing to the pandemic situation Tractor World could not take place in February this year and in any case if it had been held on its usual date Storm Eunice would have intervened.

To keep the ball rolling this year's Kelsey Media's Tractor World show took place on 21-22 May at Three Counties Showground, Malvern, Worcestershire, but will move back to early March in 2023.

People came from across mainland Europe with an excellent turn out from Republic of Ireland, Northern Ireland, Scotland, Wales and of course England, with the later three showing off some excellent tractors.

Besides the vast number of quality tractors of all kinds the highlight had to be the David Aylward restored 1948 Nuffield M4 no. 2 for Graham of the Nuffield-Leyland-Marshall Club, which still has a few things to sort out which David has to tackle. The tractor was a total wreck when purchased at record money and has been thoroughly rebuilt by David with the engine's bearings being the hardest thing to find for this early petrol-paraffin M4 engine.

Interestingly Nuffield no. 21 has recently been discovered in East Sussex by Jim Ackhurst of Bexhill and will again need a major restoration as it is very rough indeed so good luck to Jim.

The club award went to The Friends of Ferguson Heritage which featured lots of new to the scene 100 series tractors in original or restored form. The Ferguson Club stand featured 60 years of the Massey Ferguson 35X. As for the Allis-Chalmers UK Owners Club stand: that was just excellent with so many original tractors to enjoy. A great show helped by such good dry and not over warm weather; the show is back!

NATIONAL A GREAT SUCCESS

After two years of waiting, the National Vintage Tractor Road Run eventually took place on 17 April and started from Llanilid Farm, Pencoed, near Bridgend. It was to be a Massey Ferguson/Ferguson celebration with over half the entries being of that marque.

The event attracted 420 tractors including 40 modern tractors at the back of the field. The event raised money for two worthy charities that of the Welsh Air Ambulance and Marie Curie and was sponsored by Prichard's who provided the excellent lunchtime stop.

After the customary tractor blessing by the Reverend Glenda Oglesbee and speech by the founder, Ashley Godsall, it was off on the road. The tractors were led from the start line by 3.5 year old, Gwilym and his little electric New Holland T7 under the watchful eyes of his mum and grandmother. Huw Jones on his Fordson E1A Major led the tractors out followed by Ashley Godsall on a borrowed Dexta followed by club chairman, Wayne Griffiths on his David Brown 880 with loader frame. He was followed by the rest of tractors on their tour of the Vale of Glamorgan and the South Wales coast. All in all, an excellent event.

Looking down over the Prichard farm where tractors assembled for the excellent lunch break.

The safe and reliable way to buy and sell machinery and equipment

Wrights Farming Register offers farmers and contractors a unique service through its team of brokers. They are the 'men in the middle' who give an impartial opinion on the items of machinery they handle on behalf of their clients. The brokers, who currently cover an area stretching from the Scottish borders to the South Coast, can save farmers time and money when it comes to buying or selling anything from a combine harvester to a cattle trough. In these security-conscious days, they also provide a discreet alternative to a public farm dispersal sale and can help farmers avoid the tax pitfalls these can cause.

HOW TO SPOT A SCAM ADVERT

We are currently aware of a number of fraudulent advertisers attempting to sell items within this section.

While we aim to protect our readers by removing these adverts, sometimes they may unfortunately appear.

Please be mindful before entering into any deals and PROCEED WITH CAUTION.

1. SPEAK TO THE FARMER

Always look into whether an advertiser appears legitimate.

2. VIEW THE ITEM

If you can, view the item on the farm first.

3. AVOID ERRORS

Avoid anything with errors. If an ad has odd formatting, strange or poor-quality images, or spelling/grammar mistakes.

5. NEVER PAY IN ADVANCE

Avoid sellers who claim to be unavailable (e.g. they are travelling or have moved overseas) and insist on payment prior to arranging delivery.

6. PAYMENT

Avoid any arrangement that asks for payment via money order, wire transfer, international funds transfer, pre-loaded card or electronic currency, like Bitcoin. It is rare to recover money sent this way.

Farm Machinery is NOT responsible for any part of the transaction that takes place with the seller and the buyer.
