UPGRADEABLE HYBRID

Claydon drills have evolved through the original V-Drill, which was available from around 2003, SR models made from 2006 and to the subsequent Hybrid models produced from 2009. Here we take a look at the Hybrid drill and its developments.

CLAYDON

V-DRILL 6.0M

Year: 2005

Condition: Good

Comment: V-Drills are an increasingly rare used find, many owners retaining these still viable tools for emergency back-up.

Price point: £7,000 to £12,000

A Claydon drill of any vintage is relatively 'simple', with parts readily available for all models that is matched to a wealth of experience and support on offer to those adopting the Claydon 'system' for the first time.

Although the company continues to hone its 'minimal disturbance' drilling concept to reflect the demand for greatly increased productivity across all soil types, some upgrades may be applicable to earlier Hybrid drill models. This can enable investment in an older drill and modification of it by fitting certain new parts (see Lower disturbance Opti-Till upgrades).

Before taking a look at the models and developments, a note on used availability. Demand for Claydon drills is currently strong enough to mean there can be a bit of a lead time to secure a new one. This has a knock-on impact upon the availability of a used buy. If you hope to find a used model when nearing the peak drilling season you may well struggle to find one.

Better news is that Claydon Hybrid drill wearing metal is not difficult or over costly to renew which can mean examples that have covered a large area can be brought up to front line service (relatively) economically. The flip side is that a used buy that has been well maintained and stored inside can have a used value that could prove to be higher than you might expect.

NOTE: Earlier V-Drill and SR Stone Release drills remain perfectly viable tools but used ones are also not easy to find. This is in part due to any drill that can provide extra drilling capacity in a tough season having a value that will outweigh the benefit of selling it on.

MODELS AND DEVELOPMENTS

2003: CLAYDON V-DRILL

The V-Drill was the first commercially available Claydon drill. Offered only in fully mounted form, these models were available in 3.45m, 4.00m, 4.80m and 6.00m versions, all based around the same V shaped 3.45m central frame. The latter proved too wide for transport, a redesign for 2004 seeing the frame

CLAYDON

SR 3.45M

Year: 2008

Condition: Good

Comment: SR drills in good condition can sell for strong money.

Price point: £10,000 to £14,000

CLAYDON

HYBRID 4.0M

Year: 2011

Condition: Good

Comment: Demand for Hybrid drills is such that even examples with several years of intensive use behind them can see them command strong money.

Price point: £15,000 to £19,000

width reduced to 2.80m.

The working principle of the V-Drill set the design template for all subsequent models. A leading tine cuts a channel into the stubble, a Bourgault A-share coulter then opening out the slot created, with pneumatically metered seed sown in a band behind. Claydon offered three widths of Bourgault coulter, 80mm, 120mm and, most common 180mm.

Claydon drills can be purchased new or modified with alternative tine and coulter arrangements, but the basics are tines or discs up front, seed coulters next and consolidation and covering at the rear. Proven simplicity has helped harden the residual values of pre-owned drills, well-worn examples making a viable refurbishment project.

<< The V-Drill, like all Claydon products, was subject to a series of developments. Some drills would have originally been sold with no form of consolidation of the seed slot, but the factory did offer tyre press wheels and straight sprung following tines as an option. User developed presses and harrows may also have been fitted over the years.

The V-Drill proved a success, but it was not without its drawbacks. The non-staggered 300mm inter-row clearance of the tines and coulters could prove too narrow when working in heavy trash, leading to problems with the drills blocking. In stony ground, the reliance solely on shear pin protection for the leading tines could prove a handicap too.

Claydon made around 80 V-Drills, many finding a 'second' use as a dedicated rape drill. This was achieved by removing a few of the tines and coulters, increasing the inter row spacing from 300mm to 600mm. As it is relatively easy to remove and replace tines and coulters, you can modify a V-Drill to suit a specific sowing job. The front tines can be dropped down to a maximum working depth of around 150mm.

The seed hopper on all but the very earliest V-Drills has a 1,600 litre / 1,250kg capacity, with Sully MP3 metering. If you come across a V-Drill with an Accord metering system, it will be a very early model.

Launched in 2006, the Claydon SR (Stone Release) drill has a completely different and stronger frame to its predecessor, with the tines and coulters mounted in two staggered rows. This provides much improved clearance. The front tines have Bellota auto-reset legs as standard, this enabling 'non-stop' drilling in stony land. Metering changed to Kverneland Accord units with GPS compatible RDS Artemis controllers.

The SR twin-frame design sees the weight of the front tines and seed hopper carried on the three-point linkage, so enabling the working depth of the front tines to be controlled by the tractor. The drill coulters mount on the second rear section of the frame, with the sowing depth being controlled by the depth wheels. These are adjusted via a simple turn buckle.

To consolidate the drilling pass, Claydon offered a tyre press with spring harrows as standard, but a batter board system was offered as an option. This proved popular as it makes these mounted drills lighter.

SR drills were made in 3m, 3.45m and 4m working widths, the narrowest model opening up the market to those with a tractor of around 150hp but with no choice for those wanting a wider 4.80m or 6m drill. The SR frame, plus the auto reset front tines, made these mounted drills heavier than their predecessors and they cannot fold for transport either. Those seeking extra output offered by a wider drill would have to look elsewhere.

2009: HYBRID DRILL WITH FOLDING FRAMES

Although compromised by its rigid frame and overall weight limiting it to 4m, the SR drill earned a reputation for being really tough. These models make a cracking used buy for those working heavy or difficult soils.

If you are after something wider and lighter, however, you will need to start your search at the subsequent Hybrid models. These took five years to develop, Claydon wanting to offer a wider 6m mounted drill in the range. There was also a desire to further improve the clearance between the legs and coulter units that saw Claydon develop its own combined tine and seed coulter system in place of the bulky but tough and heavy units fitted to the SR. The in-house design of the Hybrid drill models mount on a single frame with front and rear sections. This enables the tine/coulter banks to be staggered to improve inter row clearance.

The completely refreshed Hybrid drill design enabled Claydon to again offer a 6m mounted model, with a narrower 4m variant, the Hybrid M4, arrived in 2010. The folding Hybrid M4.80 was available from 2011.

COMBINE VERSIONS FROM 2013...

Claydon introduced its 3m M3F combined seed and fertiliser drill in response to an increased demand from both UK and export customers. Fitted with a 2,100 litre hopper divided 50:50 for fertiliser and seed, the drill has proven a strong seller. Refinements include the ability to place fertiliser above or below the seed, making it well suited to both spring and autumn drilling.

LOWER DISTURBANCE OPTI-TILL UPGRADES

Existing Claydon drills can be 'modified' with the lower disturbance LD tine and disc options offered on current Opti-Till drill models. Suitable for use on mounted and trailed versions of its Hybrid drills, with key choices listed below.

As a guide to conversion parts prices to convert a standard Claydon

Hybrid drill with either the twin tine kit with plain or fluted Spiradisk double front cutting discs, these will be £5,461 for 3.00m 9 tine, £7,847 for the 4m 13 tine, £9,130 for the 4.80m 15 tine, £11,559 for the 6m 19 tine and £15,238 for the 8m 25 tine Hybrid drill models. All prices excluding fitting and VAT.

The standard 'A' share design can be swapped by simply undoing three bolts and changing to a choice of alternatives. The standard leading tine, as shown, can also be replaced with a double disc by removing a single pin.

Replacing the standard seeding tine, the twin-tines can be used either with the existing standard front tines or in combination with double front cutting discs to minimise soil disturbance and reduce the power requirement. Providing a more traditional finish than band seeding, the seeded rows from the twin tine set-up are spaced 150mm apart but the brackets which hold the tines in place can be moved in by 50mm. This allows the width of the seeded band to be reduced to 100mm. This can be used to facilitate the use of an inter-row hoe, such as the Claydon TerraBlade, to take out weeds between the rows.

For ultra-low-disturbance drilling in soils in excellent condition, the standard leading tine can be replaced with twin 330mm-diameter front cutting discs. These can be either plain or fluted Claydon Spiradisk types. Both have an integral scraper to keep them running cleanly.

The plain cutting disc offers minimal soil disturbance and reduces power requirement by approximately 50% compared with the standard leading tine set-up. The fluted Spiradisk is designed to cut through trash and creates a degree of tilth and slightly wider channel for the seed.

Claydon SR stone release drills are fitted with Bellota break back tines. Really tough, the drawback was weight, SR models coming in mounted only form and up to 4.0m in width. These models still make a sound used buy, but it is all too easy to pay too much.

Front cutting discs in place of tines can cope with high levels of surface trash. When considering a pre-owned drill, make sure you know what you need for your soils and do not be afraid to ask for advice. A drill can be fitted with new alternative soil working elements but how viable a swap will be will depend upon what you fit and how much you paid for the drill.

PRICING A USED CLAYDON HYBRID DRILL

Pre-owned Claydon Hybrid drill prices vary a great deal to make knowing what to pay for a used buy tricky. Optional extras and a few spec tweaks can also add quite a bit extra to the bottom line, so apparently similar drills can vary a great deal in price. When you look will also have an impact. In the autumns of 2019 and 2020, used drills were fetching a lot of money. As an example, a well-used 2013 Hybrid M3 could sell for around two-thirds of what it cost new.

Key feature and option checks should include:

- stone protection,
- marker arms
- tines fitted,
- rear set-up (harrows / batterboards / press wheels / cage wheels)
- condition of the wearing metal
- evidence of routine maintenance
- how the drill is stored
- overall condition

When first launched, Claydon fitted hydraulically pressurised break-back rams to its in-house designed front tines. From 2016, all Hybrid T models were fitted with simpler sealed gas rams, and most mounted Hybrid models will have them too. On a pre-owned drill, look over not just wearing metal but all pivot points too.

... AND TRAILED DRILLS FROM 2014

Claydon saw numerous advantages in offering its drills only as mounted units, to include reduced in-field wheelings, the ability to raise the drill completely out of work if there was a blockage and the need for less space to turn tightly on the headland.

Customer demand for a wider drill, however, saw the development of the trailed 6m and 8m Hybrid T models, ten of the 6m units being produced in 2014. In outline, these trailed drills have a different frame design to the mounted models, with a 2m centre section and, on the 6m models, two 2m hydraulically folding wings to give a transport width of 3m.

An 8m variant was announced at the same time, this following the same format as the 6m model. On both, the weight of the drilling chassis is carried on five centrally mounted depth wheels fitted with 10.0/75 15.3 cleated tyres, the seed hopper being supported by four transport wheels fitted with 380/55-17 tyres.

The two tine banks are 2.5m apart, minimum inter-tine clearance listing as 550mm, with row spacing of either 300mm or 600mm. The tines have hydraulic stone protection but pre-emergence markers were an option.

The hopper on combined drill variants has a nominal capacity of 5,500 litres, split 60:40 for seed and fertiliser, with a removable separator plate for seed only drilling. Camera monitoring for each section is fitted as standard, together with an adjustable seed level sensor and roll-over hopper top.

As to metering, this stays with the Kverneland Accord system, RDS Artemis electronics offering radar-controlled Vari Rate seeding, touch-button calibration, and a hydraulically driven fan unit. The towing tractor will need four spool valves.

ENHANCED SPECIFICATION, TINE AND DISC CHOICES

At LAMMA 2015, Claydon showed its then new four-channel CANBUS/ ISOBUS head unit terminal. This controller is a step up from the previous system in terms of functionality and the ability to 'patch' into the electronics of newer tractor models.

Both the 6m and 8m Hybrid T models were offered with a front press option. This allows these models to sow directly into stubble as before but also work into min-till, cultivated or ploughed land.

In 2016 customers were offered 3m and 4m drills in trailed form as the Hybrid T3 and T4 respectively, with a 4.80m trailed T4.8 announced in 2017. These models again have the ability to work into previously worked land. More tine choices were offered to include cutting discs in place of front tines and twin in place of single rear seeding tines. Options could include four cameras to enable the operator to monitor the entire drill width from the tractor cab, six work lights, blockage sensors and a front tool bar to carry cutting discs or press wheels.

As for specifications, a Hybrid T3 has an Distribution shoe deposits seed in a band. The shoe is protected from wear by the coulter wing, the latter coming on widths of 80mm, 120mm and 180mm. You can glean a lot from looking under the seed coulters, wear in the leg and boot suggesting the wing has been allowed to wear right down in the past.

unladen weight of approximately 2,600kg, is equipped with single-point depth control and features a stainless-steel metering system and an RDS Artemis control with variable rate seeding capability. The standard specification also includes a hydraulically driven fan, Claydon-designed metering heads, a tramline kit and options to include GPS-controlled variable-rate seeding.

As a used buyer, this pretty much covers the core drill models you are likely to come across as a pre-owned buy but be aware that users can make changes to the original specification. Make no assumptions and check the drill's provenance if buying privately.

SUMMARY

Whether buying a pre-owned drill for front line use or as a back-up, the work you need to invest in securing the right drill needs to start well before you expect to work the machine. If you are looking for a drill for this season, you may well find you have rather limited choices.

That is the bad news. Better news is that now is absolutely the right time to put out feelers for a drill for autumn 2023! The sooner you start to look the better the chance of securing the drill you want.

It is also worth punching a calculator to do the normal new versus pre-owned buying calculations. A used drill may save money up front but only if it is the drill you need. A new buy tailored to your specific soils could make a better long-term investment.

Claydon use the well-proven Kverneland-Accord metering system for both plain and combine drill models. The pneumatic seeding system on the drill is not known for problems which is not the same as suggesting it will not need a careful look over. Damaged hoses are a key check but also take the metering unit apart and look for wear in the seals. All parts can be renewed but costs can spiral if the system is run worn. Combine drills are subject corrosion, so take a really good look. Poorly cleaned and stored models can suffer expensive damage.

Paddles consolidate the soil over the seed furrow with spring tines helping to ensure the soil is levelled behind the drill. This simple system works well in most conditions, but users need to avoid putting too much pressure on the paddles and tines in difficult conditions to avoid blockages.

From around 2016, Claydon offered polycarbonate paddles in place of metal. More pliable and offering reduced friction, these items will retrofit all models.

A relatively popular option is the Claydon NutriSeeder. Fitted with a 200-litre hopper, the system can be retrofitted to existing drills.

NEW JCB FASTRAC ICON TO MAKE DEBUT

The latest JCB Fastrac, featuring an all-new touch screen control interface and other significant upgrades, will make its Midlands Machinery Show debut at the Newark Showground in November alongside a selection of JCB materials handling solutions exhibited by JCB dealers Sharmans Agricultural and G&J Peck Ltd.

The latest Fastrac 4000 and 8000 Series tractors have an all-new electronics infrastructure that includes fully integrated ISOBUS implement control and GPS guidance options, with everything operated using the new iCON armrest control console incorporating a 12in colour touch-screen display.

In addition to creating this new operator-machine interface during an extensive four-year development programme, JCB engineers also developed new control strategies for the CVT transmission, with fully automatic speed-based powertrain management introduced alongside existing modes.

Automatic switching between pedal and joystick driving techniques is triggered simply by using these different controls during field work and road travel, and a new joystick-mounted thumb roller provides fine speed adjustment.

Jon Wareing, JCB Sales Manager at Pecks said: "The Fastrac iCON with its all-new control system and other upgrades has generated huge interest, so we're planning to exhibit our 348hp Fastrac 8330 iCON demonstrator for visitors to sit in the cab and appreciate the features of the new controls, which are so intuitive to set up and use."

Managing director Scott Barclay said: "The Fastrac has always had strong appeal with its unrivalled ride comfort, great all-round visibility, and fast working and road speeds.

"With the new iCON version, it's also up with the best in terms of tractor and implement control and guidance, with an enhanced transmission also contributing to a more enjoyable, more productive experience for the operator."

Pecks and Sharmans also plan to exhibit examples of JCB's world-leading range of Loadall telescopic handlers, which earlier this year was expanded with the new 542-70 AGRI Pro.

In addition to the Loadall's established features, this high-performance handler eclipses rivals with its 173hp JCB DieselMAX engine output, 50kph DualTech VT transmission, 22% greater dynamic tractive effort and 14% greater hydraulic flow at 160-litre/min.

All of which adds up to a significant increase in productivity potential for large farming enterprises and contracting businesses.

The Midlands Machinery Show will be hosted by the Newark & Nottinghamshire Agricultural Society on 16-17 November at the Newark Showground.

KUBOTA EXTENDS TRACTOR WARRANTY OPTIONS

Kubota (UK) Ltd has extended its range of Kubota Care tractor warranty packages to include a five year term that now offers up to 6,000 hours of protection.

This latest option provides an additional 1,000 hours of cover over and above the previous maximum Kubota Care term of five years/5,000 hours, making it one of the best warranty packages in the industry.

Available on M6-002 and M7-003 models, this latest warranty extension can be selected up to 30 days following the installation date of the new tractor purchase, creating a competitive fixed cost of ownership and peace of mind for up to five years and 6,000 hours.

"Reliability and durability are synonymous with the Kubota brand, and this extension of our Kubota Care packages adds yet more assurance to the quality of Kubota tractors," explains Tim Yates, Kubota (UK)'s agricultural and ground care sales manager.

"We've offered a five year/5,000 hour warranty option across the M-series for a few years, but we've recognised that M6-002 and M7-003 models are those that are likely to be worked longer and harder," adds Tim Yates. "And this has led to the extension of our existing five year/5,000 hour package to a five year/6,000 hour option."

Kubota Care is an extended warranty scheme that is backed by Kubota, and is not a third-party insurance policy. As such, Kubota Care does not require customers to pay an excess for any warranty claims that may arise.

In addition, any unused Kubota Care warranty is also transferrable with the tractor when supported by a full service history from the Kubota dealer network. Such flexibility increases saleability and can contribute to a higher residual value.

SPREADING THE WORD ON TYRE TECHNOLOGY

Bridgestone will be spreading the word about its 'very high flexion' (VF) tyre technology at LAMMA – almost literally – when onlookers can see it fitted to a unique, 6,000kg Coning Fertiliser truck.

North Yorkshire based Coning Fertiliser supports both the arable and livestock sectors, spanning some 100,000 acres from North Yorkshire up to the Scottish Borders.

Richard Coning's fleet consists of three Iveco Trucks, two Mercedes Truck/Unimog, two trailer spreaders, two fertiliser chaser trailers and a Kramer telehandler, but it's one of two brand new MAN - TGM 18.320 – trucks on display at LAMMA that will take centre stage, fitted on Bridgestone's VT-TRACTOR tyres.

The sheer weight of the 320bhp machine requires a tyre that can withstand such a heavy load whilst also protecting the soil beneath it, which is where Bridgestone comes into its own.

Compared to standard tyres, the Bridgestone VT-TRACTOR tyre can operate at lower inflation pressures, with larger footprints, helping businesses like Richard's to work faster, carry heavier loads and consume less fuel – all while protecting the soil.

The truck, fitted with a KRM F10 Hopper to give a spread width up to 48m, will be at the KRM Stand at LAMMA on 4-5 May 2023.

Bridgestone's VT Sales Manager for North Europe Stephen Lamb said: "The tyres operate on the ground at 1.4bar – 1.0 bar and back up to 2 bar for road travel. This is where our VF540/65 R28 and VF710/60 R30 tyres come into their own. This MAN truck is one of the best adverts we could wish for, as it showcases how the VT-TRACTOR improves areas of efficiency and performance in a really memorable way.

Richard added: "We've looked at all aspects of improving the service to our customers. These include cost savings on fuel, road and field gear-ratio combinations these trucks offer, improvements to soil compaction effects and spreading accuracy via dynamic weighing and section control. Plus, having the flexibility of transporting the Ferti-Bins, behind the trucks onto farm, gives us greater capacity, without the additional transportation cost and time.

ASC TO DISTRIBUTE AGXEED AUTONOMOUS TRACTORS

Agricultural technology provider AS Communications has been in the business for 33 years, continually providing solutions to make land-based businesses more efficient here in the UK. This has been achieved through automated steering, communications, implement control and more recently software. AS Communications are proud to have been awarded the distribution of AgXeed autonomous vehicles from winter 2022-2023, further enhancing their solution-based offering and delivering cutting edge solutions to the UK.

To deliver this exciting range of products AgXeed will be distributed through a dedicated team operating under the ASC Autonomy brand. AgXeed technology is more than a machine: it is a new way of farming, and partners like ASC Autonomy can guide and support customers through the change management process associated with running this equipment.

AS Communications recognise AgXeed as a strong contender in the autonomy space. Having seen the machine at work at various shows and at the factory in the Netherlands there is no doubt it has a place with both new and existing customers. Larger implements have been used to compensate for the labour shortages we have seen in the UK, this has put larger machines on the ground resulting in increased pressure on soils, quite literally. By employing autonomy there is more scope to operate equipment for longer so the same ground can be covered with smaller implements, taking care of our soils. AgXeed is able to pull existing implement configurations in a lot of cases, making it much easier to implement into existing systems.

"Our existing customers are utilising a lot of the technology already associated with autonomy, having the field and A-B line infrastructure in place for their manned vehicles is very similar to that required for the autonomous machines, but more important" says Andrew Williams of AS Communications/ASC Autonomy. "We see a lot more customers looking to utilise software in their recording and analysis of field operations, the AgXeed has some powerful tools in this area, and it is a natural next step for us as a business."

POWER AND TECHNOLOGY

McCormick puts high power and technology on display at the agricultural mechanisation event scheduled for the 45th edition of EIMA International in Bologna, from 9 to 13 November. Tractors of the Argo Tractors brand feature new chrome decals that are increasingly akin to the new family feeling that has modernised the entire range.

Improved comfort, reliability and fuel consumption of top-of-the-range tractors are some of the features found in almost all McCormick models, designed in particular for VT-Drive, the continuously variable transmission. The first is EasyGrip, the tyre pressure monitoring and inflation system operated via ISOBUS using the Data Screen Manager. This solution allows you to adjust tyre pressures for the various activities (transportation and working). It stops automatically when the pre-set pressure is reached. This makes it easier to maintain an optimal tyre pressure. Advantages include reduced soil compaction, low fuel consumption and minimal tyre wear, all while optimising soil productivity.

Another improvement is Smart Power Zero, a system similar to the Hill Holder in the automotive sector, which allows the tractor to remain stationary on any type of slope, once the reverse shuttle has been engaged, until the accelerator pedal or the EasyPilot joystick are activated. This feature also communicates with the trailer braking system at the same time. This means that you do not always have to use the brake pedal and ensures the safety of the operator and those who are close to the work area. A further advantage of the Smart Power Zero function is that it makes it easier when approaching implements to connect them.

MCCORMICK X8 VT-DRIVE

The powerful, reliable and comfortable McCormick X8 VT-Drive took the stage a year ago, at EIMA. Powered by a six-cylinder FPT N67 Stage V 6.7 litre engine. The range includes two models: X8.627 and X8.631 VT-Drive, with power outputs of 264hp and 310hp. There are two versions: Efficient and Premium. To comply with emission limits regulations, engines with eVGT electronically controlled variable geometry turbochargers use the HI-eSCR2 exhaust gas after-treatment system.

The transmission is a continuously variable, four-stage VT-Drive with dedicated hydraulic circuits. Strengths: the response capacity that allows you to reach 40kph or 50kph at 1,300rpm and 1,580rpm respectively in just 40 metres (with a drastic reduction in fuel consumption).

The X8.631 VT-Drive model has a maximum allowed weight of 16,000kg and a wheelbase of 3,000mm. The front axle has an electronically controlled parallelogram suspension (standard), oil cooled front disc brakes and a mother hitch with position control. For better implement management, a 540E/1000E/1000 (standard) electro-hydraulic engagement rear PTO and a 1,000rpm electro-hydraulic engagement front PTO (optional) are available.

X6.4 P6 DRIVE

The range was officially presented at the last edition of Fieragricola, in Bologna it will be represented by the X6.415 P6-Drive Stage V model, with a 2,560mm wheelbase and a 4.5 litre, 16 valve 4-cylinder, FPT NEF 45 engine capable of unleashing a power output of 155hp. This model is designed for those who require versatility, performance and comfort and is suitable for working in the open field, haymaking and any work involving a loader.

The P6-Drive transmission with six PowerShift gears and four ranges offers 24 + 24 ratios, which rise to 40 + 40 when a creeper is fitted, with the option of 40kmph or 50kmph road speed. Four speed pto with synchronised option: The front hitch can lift up to 2,500kg and the electronic rear lifting system can lift up to 7,200kg.

The closed-centre hydraulic system features a 114 l/min pump capable of supplying up to seven spool valves.

McCormick High Vision Cab is the cab with new FOPS approved panoramic roof with additional hatch for natural ventilation and LED field lights (14 are available, eight of which are integrated in the roof to give better visibility at night).

MCCORMICK X6 XTRASHIFT

The McCormick X6 XtraShift is one of the most recent ranges; it is Stage V compliant thanks to the use of DOC-DPF-SCR technology, with closed-centre hydraulics and stands out because of its suspended axle and cab. The tractor is positioned in the Utility category, suitable for open field work and haymaking and its performance, versatility, design and comfort rank among its plus factors.

The model X6.135 with a 3.6 litre 16 valve F36 engine having maximum power output of 127hp will be on display in Bologna. The increased tank capacity (from 150 litres to 170 litres) and the introduction of new solutions guarantee a 10% reduction in fuel consumption. Maximum torque has also been increased, which can reach 518Nm at 1,300rpm.

The transmission ensures a precise and adequate speed for each application. This is thanks to the tried and tested 36+12 scheme with HML (three speed under load) and Reverse Powershuttle with modulated engagement. The speeds become 48+16 when a creeper is fitted.

MCCORMICK X5 STAGE V

The X5.120 model of the McCormick X5 Stage V, with a power output of 114hp, is the maximum power version of a range that also includes the X5.100 and X5.110 models. There are two configurations available: Premium and Efficient.

Another version, High Clearance is available, which comes in the Efficient configuration, X5.100HC with 95hp and X5.110HC with 102hp.

MCCORMICK X4F

McCormick X4F is the speciality tractor that combines power and technology with versatility and lightness, which is well suited to manoeuvring in the narrow spaces available in orchards and vineyards. The range is represented by the largest version at the Bologna trade fair: X4 XL, the version dedicated to wide orchards and open field, with a 2.9-litre engine and a maximum power output that can reach 112hp.

Stage V compliance is guaranteed by the innovative system that uses a passive regeneration DPF, DOC oxidation catalyst and, for models over 75hp, by an SCR (selective catalyst reduction) catalytic converter and an AdBlue® tank with practical quick-access and quick-top-up system.

Peter Love, the joint creator of Tractor & Machinery and Classic Tractor, gives Farm Machinery his views on this month's events.

If you have a story, or an event, please do get in touch: peterlove@madasafish.com, TEL: 01323 833125

This autumn has been nothing but hectic when it comes to farm sales more so than usual with a number of farmers retiring and giving up tenancies at the same time.

All the major companies have been kept very busy and prices have been above average in places particularly for relatively new machinery.

Just before I go, my report on the 74th annual East Grinstead & Three Counties ploughing match on 3 September as featured in the October South East Farmer I note there is a discrepancy in the results. I had David Gill on the phone to tell me he was the winner of Class 7 with his Fordson Dexta and Ransomes Robin 2-furrow plough and was holding the cup in his hand while talking to me on the phone! I apologise about the matter, the results were supplied to me by the organisers but I am happy to be able to print the correction.

On 26 September Brown & Co were at Gawdy Hall Estates near Harleston, Norfolk for an extensive equipment disposal sale on this 800 acre farm. It was all high quality and this was reflected in the excellent prices on the day with a huge crowd to boot.

ONLINE DISPOSAL SALE

Brighthouse Farm, Lawshall, Suffolk saw Lacy Scott & Knight stage an on-line disposal sale that concluded on 28 September.

Lot 28 was a not very desirable 1978 International 674 two-wheel drive with 4,903 hours which sold here for £1,700 grade 9.2. Lot 33 was a good looking John Deere A 'V' front with pressed frame and 6-speed transmission. With the carburettor not on the engine, but with the lot, it still sold for £3,100. The 1947 John Deere styled D, GV9441 which is suggested to have been in the UK all its life and sold for £4,000.

The top lots were the excellent 2012 Case-IH Maximum 175CVX with 5,094 hours at £24,100 and the 2016 Case Puma 175CVX with 2,370 hours moved on at £50,600 with VAT on all lots.

Top lot on the day was the 2016 Case Puma 175CVX with 2,370 hours sold for £50,600

Looking rather 'dusty' the International 674 was got away at £1,700

Looking very clean, but the carburettor had been removed and was in bits on the pressed frame John Deere A 'V' front sold for £3,100

Possibly a genuine UK tractor all its life is John Deere D GV9441 with enclosed pattern rear tyres sold for £4,000

STUNNING PRICES

Cheffins staged the excellent PM Peake, Golder Manor Farm machinery dispersal sale on Tuesday 27 September. There was a lot of stock of interest mostly in original style working condition. The 2004 John Deere 6920S AutoQuad with 50k box started it off at £44,200. Next in our line was the 1996 John Deere 6600 PowerQuad four-wheel drive with just 4,998 hours on the clock that changed hands at £21,600. Keeping with John Deere the 1992 4755 four-wheel drive with just 5,107 hours looked so clean and raised a UK record of £40,000.

As for the 1983 John Deere 4240S four-wheel drive with duel wheels front and rear and said to have done only approximately 3,000 hours and been on the farm from new was got away at a staggering £15,500. Another record was set for the, rare to find these days, original style 1969 John Deere 4020 MFD in full working order at £20,000.

We then moved on to the restored 1974 County 100FC WBJ511M all ready to go without a body on which changed hands at a very good £30,000 a record price for one of these machines, which can make you feel seasick when driving them with their very forward driving position.

We moved to the Schindler central axle Ford Force 5000 four-wheel drive conversion in lovely working condition and 4,409 hours which was moved on at £7,500. The 1965 Massey Ferguson 175 Multi-Power FBW806C with Farmhand HW104B front loader was a very original machine that needed tidying up, but all there and was got away at £4,500.

Next was a good Track-Marshall TM90 with the Perkins 120hp engine and blade on the front again. A clean machine and was yours at £2,200. Others of interest were the 1978 JCB 3D III backhoe/digger at £1,400.

There were a good number of added lots including an off farm 1948 Field Marshall Series 2 no.5525 Contractor Mk2 2/4 that sold at £16,000 and had been with the same owners for 73 years. The County 1174 with FMC crane UEL6035 with 3,032 hours changed hands at £12,000.

There were two Renaults in the sale a 1992 90-34 four-wheel drive J91LRT with 10,247 hours at £8,000. The 1986 133.14 D581GEX with similar hours sold for a very good £10,000 with VAT on all lots. All in all a very satisfactory sale indeed for all parties.

What a stunner the 1992 John Deere 4755 K439VJO with 5,107 hours K439VJO sold for a record £40,000

Some £56,000 was paid for the 2005 New Holland CR980 combine with 2,836 hours

Creating a new record for a FC1004 was this example at £30,000

Not looking very glamorous but very straight and original the 1965 MF 175 was yours at £4,500

Looking very clean is the 1982 John Deere 4240S duel wheeled which was yours at £15,500

Creating a new record price was the 1969 John Deere 4020 MFD with rear weights at £20,000

The 1978 JCB 3D III BKE96T was got away at £1,400

Looking good was the Ford Force 5000 with Schindler front axle at £7,500

Some £44,200 was paid for the 2004 John Deere 6920S AutoQuad with 4,883 hours

PART ONE CONCLUDED

On Friday 7 October the A R Wilson Ltd sale part one was concluded after the tragic and unexpected death of the much loved Robert Wilson in January. He and his late father Alan Wilson who preceded him had amassed the largest collection of Caterpillar, Allis-Chalmers and International Harvest Co possibly Europe. There are to be four sales with a spares sale provisionally before Christmas another not long after and the finale will have the major veteran gems in what I believe will be early May 2023.

The viewing day was Saturday 1 October in Nottinghamshire and there were 77 tractors in this part of the sale many very original, what struck me was the state of the tracks on so many of the crawlers which were in just excellent order. Nearly half the crawlers had come from a Californian sale near Stockton, in the heart of Holt and Best country who formed into Caterpillar in 1925. The condition of the oil in so much of the stock was just excellent as well.

There were also a number of Robert's fathers Nuffield Universal and 10/60 six-cylinder conversions using BMC 5.1 Newage to various Perkins adoptions in the line-up. The conversions were not pretty but very practical and all very together. In working times these conversions were sold to many farmers in the area over the years.

The highest price at the end of the sale was the so clean Allis-Chalmers HD14 no.6717202 with Garwood winch at the back showing military paint in places yours at £8,600 grade 2/3. The so original working style 1949 Caterpillar D6 9U3148SP with electric start conversion with donkey engine, plough light, excellent tracks changed hands at £6,600 in grade 3 condition.

As for the mighty 'king' of the Caterpillar range of the 50s the 1957 Caterpillar D9D 18A1914 with donkey engine start was not in the best of health and needed work and was got away at just £3,700.

There was a whole line of D6 and D7 of various types the one to come out best was the 1960 17A16895 with 74in tracks and turbocharged engine being the one they wanted at £4,600 with good tracks and in 4.3 condition. The 1954 Caterpillar D2 5U/13776/14122 with 50in tracks, electric start and front blade sold for £3,700 in grade 3 original condition.

The two Caterpillar's I loved best were the 1929 Caterpillar TWENTY orchard no.11916 in 2/4 condition selling for £3,600 which was a relatively easy restoration. Next door was my gem at the sale the 1929 Caterpillar THIRTY no. S7993 another orchard version which I would think will not take much to fire up sold for £3,500. It is my understanding that both had come from California.

Perhaps one of the best condition crawlers at the sale was the very hard to find International TD14 TBK2294D in fully restored excellent condition with just lovely condition tracks. I would have thought it would have made over £10,000 but it was yours for just £2,600. The parts section did very well here and there are many more to come in the future from this site.

The Newage 5.1 litre six cylinder Wilson conversion was to sell for £1,100

Top lot at the first Wilson sale was the Allis-Chalmers HD14 at £8,600

Top Caterpillar on the day was the D6 9U3148SP at £6,600 in lovely original condition

What a monster the 1957 Caterpillar D9D no. 18A1914 with donkey start with tracks needing some work sold for £3,700

Best of the two Massey Ferguson 2640s was the 1985 example B743CTL £6,600

1981 Massey Ferguson 2620 had an excellent cab but was not in demand at £3,400

On Thursday 22 September at Briggate Old Hall Farm, North Walsham, Norfolk just under 500 lots came under Arnold Keys Irelands hammer in front of a huge crowd of trade customers. There was certainly something for everyone at this 300 acre farm which had been run by three brothers at one time. The mixed farm had good equipment and this was reflected in the prices achieved. The 2020 New Holland T7.315 with 3,100 hours and some warranty left, sold for a stomping £92,000 +VAT.

GOOD PRICES AT SHINGAY

Friday 30 September saw Brown & Co at Easter Gate Farm, Shingay south Cambridgeshire where they held the machinery dispersal sale in cold and draughty conditions. The Massey Ferguson fleet was immaculate as was much of the stock offered here. Prices were very good indeed, although the classic

Ransomes ploughs were good, prices were not so exciting, all-round the sale was a great success.

WRIGHTS BROKER SERVICE

The safe and reliable way to buy and sell machinery and equipment

Wrights Farming Register offers farmers and contractors a unique service through its team of brokers. They are the 'men in the middle' who give an impartial opinion on the items of machinery they handle on behalf of their clients. The brokers, who currently cover an area stretching from the Scottish borders to the South Coast, can save farmers time and money when it comes to buying or selling anything from a combine harvester to a cattle trough. In these security-conscious days, they also provide a discreet alternative to a public farm dispersal sale and can help farmers avoid the tax pitfalls these can cause.

Please be mindful before entering into any deals and

PROCEED WITH CAUTION.

1. SPEAK TO THE FARMER

Always look into whether an advertiser appears legitimate.
